FOREWORD FROM ROTHMANS OF PALL MALL

This year, the 12th consecutive edition of Rothmans Football Yearbook coincides with a major new innovation in the Football League – three points for a win.

While it is customary to reflect here on the season past, we find this an irresistible opportunity to echo the desires of everyone concerned with this great game for the promotion of attacking football and the style, grace and enthusiasm that accompany such ambition. We at Rothmans helped to sow the seeds for this development in the early seventies when, with the help of avant garde thinking, teams in the Hellenic, Isthmian, Northern and Western Leagues were rewarded with three points for winning their respective matches.

We wish Mr Jack Dunnett, the new Chairman of the Football League, and Mr Bert Millichip, the new Chairman of the Football Association, every success in achieving their declared intent to work together for the good of our international reputation in football, both on and off the field. If the Football League gives the England administration its support, and accepts the fact that a successful national side creates a financially rewarding atmosphere for the game in this country, we can look forward to a more cheerful season. A season which we hope will also bring rewards for Britain's other national teams.

There is nothing wrong with British football at its best. It was seen last season in the FA Cup Final replay, even if we needed two Argentines to add a little extra sparkle, while both Aston Villa and Ipswich Town were often superb.

We certainly hope that the next edition of the incomparable Rothmans Football Yearbook gives Jack Rollin and his wonderful team of compilers the opportunity to chronicle a wealth of goals, higher attendances and the phenomenon – almost forgotten in recent years – of attacking football.

EDITORIAL PANEL

INTRODUCTION

The twelfth edition of Rothmans Football Yearbook includes the results of all World Cup qualifying matches played up to the time of publication. The full list of teams and goalscorers for the entire qualifying competition and the finals themselves will appear in the next edition.

In addition, there is full coverage of domestic football with line-ups, goalscorers and attendances of matches played in the Football League and Scottish League, as well as the League Cup, FA Cup, Scottish League Cup and Scottish Cup. Transfers affecting players being signed by Football League clubs are given, together with any transfer fee noted at the time. As there is no official figure for such moves, the fees quoted are estimated, and with the addition of levies, including VAT, they are merely a guide to the value of the players in question.

This year's edition also marks the return of the Milestones of soccer which appeared in early issues of Rothmans Football Yearbook. Accompanying this is a more concise Diary of main events covering the 1980–81 season.

The Editor would like to thank Norman Barrett, Lionel Francis and Alan Elliott respectively for their assistance in the compilation of the Diary, Non-League Football and the Scottish season; also the invaluable assistance rendered in the completion of the book by Graeme Wright.

The Editor would also like to pay tribute to the various organisations who have helped to make this edition complete, especially Mrs Sandra Whiteside of the Football League, Mike McNamara of the Football Association, and the secretaries of all the Football League and Scottish League clubs for their kind cooperation. The ready availability of Football League secretary Graham Kelly and his staff to answer queries was as usual most appreciated. Thanks are also due to Jim Farry, the Scottish League secretary, and his staff.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The Editor would like to express his appreciation of the following individuals and organisations for their cooperation: Jill C. Ingram, Sheila Cheetham, Glynis Firth, Mike Foster, Chris J. Whalley (all from the Football League); Adrian Titcombe (The Football Association); The Scottish Football Association, The Welsh Football Association, Tom Cairns of The Scottish League, the secretaries of all Football League and Scottish League clubs, Alan Dick, Barry Hugman, Malcolm Brodie, A. Rice (The English Schools FA), W. P. Goss (AFA), Maurice Golesworthy, Ken Goldman, Peter Fay, Peter Dunk, Karen Spink, Christine Forrest, Christine Phillips, Elaine Morgan and Margaret Skinner.

EDITORIAL

The slump in League attendances of almost 2¾ millions during the 1980–81 season to a new post-war low of 21,907,569 is not due solely to the economic recession, which has certainly hit the game as badly as many another industry. Watching the game has become an expensive pastime, and in the scramble for that ever-elusive quality, success, the product, so often designed to achieve it, loses vital eye appeal. Thus, in seeking one and missing out on the other, clubs have added to the desertion of spectators.

Dwindling personal finances have led to many would-be spectators deciding to give football a miss, though not completely as there are attractive alternatives encompassing the sport. The retreat to the armchair and the extensive coverage available on television enables former devotees of the live audience to keep in touch. Indeed, the medium increasingly appears to have become a source of relatively cheap entertainment at the flick of a switch in inflationary times.

The fireside fan may still retain his interest in the game rather than take his viewing in the same detached and uncommitted way that he would watch any soap opera. But many of the genuine followers of the sport, especially those of an older generation, have tended to disappear from active participation at grounds for a variety of reasons. They have been driven away by modern annoyances, including hooliganism, obscene language, the spiralling cost of attending matches and the realisation that the game probably no longer represents the one they once knew.

Certainly it is true that people invariably remember the last result rather than the quality of the game it might have represented. But this failing allows the modern trend towards association with success to flourish whatever the quality. For there is evidence that the fan is being forced away by this pandering to the prize of success as a stimulus for a greater following.

And it is at a considerable cost to the game. In the 1955–56 season, for example, the top average attendance for a club in the First Division was 42,000; the lowest 20,000. In 1980–81, the best supported team had just over 45,000 while the lowest was just under 16,000. Moreover, there were eight First Division teams who failed to reach an average of 20,000. It could be argued that the gap between the winners and losers is widening to an alarming degree. Indeed, the structure of the game will not allow the luxury of simply following the winners, for no club can guarantee success. Only the fortunate few will enjoy that. But what they all can do, and should be ensuring, is that entertainment is provided.

It is a sickness of modern society that nobody wants to be seen to be associated with a losing team, but unless there are sufficient spectators prepared to show their loyalty to the unsuccessful clubs, the professional game will not exist in its present form. Naturally it is all too easy to blame the Football League, in its present size, for all the ills of the game. However, if the leagues were sliced to half their present number, the problems of winning and losing teams would remain the same.

It is frequently said that the Football League is the best in the world. It may be. What it certainly represents is the most competitive and longest-running, and it has continued to produce teams capable of winning honours outside this country. The 1980–81 season was no exception to this impressive record. Liverpool won the European Cup for the third time – in another tediously boring final – and Ipswich Town claimed the UEFA Cup. Though Liverpool also achieved the League Cup, a trophy which had previously eluded the Anfield sideboard, it was probably not looked upon as a vintage season on Merseyside, such has been the dominance they have provided in the First Division. The club also suffered at the turnstiles, with their lower-than-usual average of 37,547 reflecting the crippling effects of the recession in their area as much as anything else. Yet it was still the second-best figure in the Football League.

Ipswich were victims of the overcrowded fixture list, and in chasing a treble of League, FA Cup and UEFA Cup they might have failed in all three. In the First Division they seesawed nervously in the closing stages as their apparently almost unassailable lead was shredded in a sequence which produced just one win in five games – this solitary success, incredibly enough, coming at Villa Park against the eventual champions. Indeed, Ipswich beat Villa three times, twice in the League and also in the FA Cup. They were also the only club in the Football League with as many as four players reaching double figures of goals scored.

Villa, not burdened by other commitments, kept within measurable striking distance and made few changes that were not affected by injury or the odd suspension. They had seven ever-present players, one who missed only two League games, and another absent three times among only 14 players used. Even so the League Championship remained in doubt until their last fixture, at Highbury against Arsenal. However, there was something of an anti-climax about the proceedings when, on the same day, Ipswich – with a match in hand – were beaten at Middlesbrough. This made Villa's own defeat of academic interest.

Underlining the fierce competitiveness of the divisions, the other issues throughout the League remained unresolved until the last few vital games. Leicester City, despite the achievement of a rare double over Liverpool, were relegated along with Norwich City and Crystal Palace, who had languished for much of the term. Brighton and Hove Albion escaped the drop by winning their last four matches, one of them at Sunderland who themselves retrieved what appeared a desperate situation. They had to win at Liverpool and did so by the only goal of the game.

West Ham United were aristocratic in achieving their 13 points' lead at the top of the Second Division and finishing with a club record 66 points. The other two promotion places were less obvious, and Notts County and Swansea City finally achieved elevation at the expense of a handful of others, including Blackburn Rovers, Luton Town, Derby County and Grimsby Town. Chelsea, regarded as early contenders, scored in only three of their last 22 matches.

At the bottom of the Second Division the two Bristol clubs, who had been among the chief strugglers during the season, went down with Preston North End, while Cardiff City extricated themselves at the eleventh hour.

Yorkshire clubs dominated the challenge for the promotion places in Division Three, with Rotherham United and Barnsley succeeding, along with Charlton Athletic who arrested the late slide that threatened to end their hopes as it finally did those of Huddersfield Town. Rotherham set a new divisional record, conceding only 32 goals. One of the other hopefuls, Chesterfield, had had the earlier consolation of winning the last Anglo-Scottish Cup, the competition being replaced for 1981–82 by a pre-season cup for 32 clubs outside the First Division.

Probably the most dramatic end came at the foot of the Third Division, with Walsall winning at Sheffield United on the last day and United missing a penalty that would have saved them from accompanying Colchester United, Blackpool and Hull City into Division Four.

Southend United and record breakers Lincoln City, who let in a mere 25 goals, were consistent in the Fourth Division and not surprisingly finished well ahead of the rest of the field. In the eventual shake-out, Doncaster Rovers and Wimbledon progressed with them.

The oddest event of the season came near the depths of the division on 25 April in a bout of freak weather. Stockport County visited Bury but found that several snowbound players had been unable to reach the ground. Playing the entire first half with nine men they held Bury, and with a full side after the interval they actually won 1-0 – a result which helped them climb out of the re-election zone.

The other major domestic honour went to Tottenham Hotspur, who maintained their impressive record of six victories in six FA Cup finals. Their replayed success against Manchester City was a fitting climax to the 100th competition.

While the crowded domestic programme is of no real assistance to clubs aiming to achieve more than one honour, it does little to help the international teams either. The unique situation of two bodies often operating in a manner which, to an outsider, must seem to be at variance with the aims of the other, is one of the root causes. However many the problems of demarcation for the Football Association and the Football League, there will have to be a move to centralise interests wherever the affairs of the two overlap.

It may be argued that the performances of the England team in 1980–81 were largely unimpressive because of the stranglehold on players' time caused by the demands of the League system. But the Football League clubs cannot be made responsible for the material at their disposal. This continues to mirror the far from satisfactory situation which often has promising young players regimented into tactics designed to win competitions when they should be devoting their formative years to developing individual skills.

ROTHMANS FOOTBALL AWARDS 1981

The following six special awards have been made by Rothmans to mark a worthwhile contribution to the game in season 1980–81.

JOHN BOND. When John Bond was persuaded to leave Norwich City for Maine Road, Manchester City were languishing so badly in the lower reaches of the First Division that salvation seemed an unlikely outcome, even under a new administration. Yet with the instilment of confidence and some judicious deals in the transfer market, he fashioned a side which proved itself not only capable of escaping danger but possessing the ability to reach the FA Cup final and provide a fitting finale to the 100th competition, even though City had to be content with the runners-up medals after the replay.

ENFIELD. Giant-killing has been one of the essential ingredients in the success of the FA Cup and the 100th competition proved to be no exception to this rule. Enfield emerged with traditionally excellent credentials, taking on Football League opposition and beating it in the process. Both Port Vale and Hereford United succumbed to the Berger Isthmian League side before Barnsley were faced in the fourth round. After battling to a draw at Oakwell, Enfield won a replay which was switched to White Hart Lane to accommodate a crowd of 35,244 – and defeat there brought no disgrace to the part-timers.

TONY KELLOW. Although he made his name as a prolific goalscorer outside the League with Falmouth Town, Tony Kellow has also established himself in the national competition in a few seasons. In 1980–81 he enjoyed his best campaign, finishing as the League's top marksman with 25 League goals plus another eight in cup games. After a couple of seasons with Blackpool he returned to his first League club, Exeter City, towards the end of 1979–80 and by the conclusion of last season had taken his overall total to 93 for his two clubs – an average of nearly one goal for every two matches.

JIM McLEAN. Dundee United's long-serving manager Jim McLean has established a reputation for both success and attractiveness – an almost elusive combination in the modern game. In 1980–81 United were able to retain the League Cup won the previous season, and they also reached the Scottish Cup final where they were beaten by Rangers in a replay. In the Premier Division Dundee United were freely acknowledged to be the team to catch the eye, often providing a challenge to Celtic, Rangers and Aberdeen – the dominating teams in recent years.

MICK MILLS. Ipswich Town owed much to captain Mick Mills during the 1980–81 season as they chased a treble of honours involving the League title, FA Cup and UEFA Cup. In the final reckoning they managed only the European prize, but it in no way diminished their gallant attempt. Throughout they owed much to the leadership of their captain, who acted as the interpreter on the field to the guidance of manager Bobby Robson. A full England international capable of playing either at full-back or in midfield, Mills has been a one-club man.

BRYAN ROBSON. The most consistent player to have emerged during the past year for the full England team is arguably Bryan Robson, of West Bromwich Albion, who has proved able to acquit himself either in midfield or defence and at any level of the game. A product of the fertile North-East, he has been with the Albion since his youth, and despite a nightmare season early in his development when he experienced the trauma of breaking his leg three times, he has graduated to become one of the most talented professionals in the Football League.

Soccer – The Fight for Survival

On 11 August 1980, the Secretaries, Managers and Coaches Association announced their charter 'Soccer – The Fight for Survival'. A 'blueprint for the future', it was drawn up by a study group comprising Ken Friar, Alan Dicks, Harry Haslam, Ron Saunders, Graham Taylor, Terry Venables and Bill Nicholson. It was then discussed at Solihull by the representatives (mainly chairmen) of the 92 League clubs in a two-day seminar (26–27 October). This, in turn, was followed by an extraordinary general meeting on 9 February 1981, in which votes were taken and resolutions passed or rejected.

The resolutions passed included the following:

A new points system for the League – 3 points for a win, 1 for a draw – to be introduced in 1981–82.

A maximum of six League matches allowed each weekend on Fridays or Sundays (see below, Sunday Soccer).

No players to be bought by a club until previous transfer debts settled. (Rejected was the proposal that half a transfer fee be paid immediately, with the rest within 12 months.)

No club official (director or secretary) to be involved in the management or administration of more than one club at the same time.

Voting power of Third and Fourth Divisions to be increased from six to eight.

Apprentice players to receive compulsory instruction in the laws of the game.

A 'gentlemen's agreement' not to poach another club's manager during the course of a season.

Among the proposals rejected were a reduction in the majority vote required to pass a resolution from three-quarters to two-thirds; all 92 clubs to vote on re-election and election to the League; extension of the half-time interval to 15 minutes; and a ban on any player rejoining a club within 12 months of leaving them.

In addition, the meeting recommended that a proposal to allow each club one paid director be put to the FA.

Several other suggestions made in the original charter were either rejected at the first seminar (restructuring of the League by reduction in size of Divisions 1 and 2 and regionalizing of 3 and 4), implemented before the extraordinary general meeting (see below, 1981–82 Season Put Back and End of Red and Yellow Cards), or required further discussion, perhaps with the FA (appointment of 'supremo' to co-ordinate the administration of the game in England; the setting up of a 'think tank' composed of members from the various bodies; setting up of a commercial section; introduction of professional referees; and scrapping of the assessor system).

Sunday Soccer

First-class Sunday soccer was staged in England for the first time since 1974, when Sunday League and Cup fixtures were allowed from January to March owing to the power crisis and the three-day week. This time, however, despite the club chairmen's recommendations for Sunday football in the League, the FA firmly rejected Port Vale's request to stage their First Round FA Cup tie against Bradford City on the Sunday and reasserted their strong opposition to Sunday ties.

The first match played on Sunday in the 1980–81 season took place on 15 February at Feethams Ground, where Fourth Division Darlington entertained Mansfield Town in front of a crowd of 5932, trebling their average home gate. Sunday soccer continued for the rest of the season, with matches played in Divisions 2, 3, and 4. Most gates were well above average at first, but as the season progressed the increases were less significant.

In order to switch a fixture to Sunday, the home club (having first, of course, reached agreement with their visitors) had to apply to the League management committee. Admission procedure on Sunday involved the sale of a single-sheet programme priced the same as normal admission, together with a complimentary admission ticket (different colours for different parts of the ground). The regular match programme was on sale inside the ground.

End of Red and Yellow Cards

An FA directive ended the system of referees' displaying yellow and red cards for cautions and sending-offs, respectively. A unanimous decision of the FA Council, but by no means popular with the majority of referees, the directive took effect as from Monday 19 January 1981, and applied to all English leagues, competitions, and friendlies. The system had originally been introduced in 1975–76.

1981–82 Season Put Back

In February, the League announced changes in scheduling for the 1981–82 season. The League programme has been put back a fortnight, to avoid the clash with end-of-August holidays, and will now run from 29 August to 15 May, with the FA Cup final on 22 May.

Football League Cup

In accordance with the rescheduling of the Football League programme, the Football League Cup has also been rearranged, with the first round starting in the first week of September and the second round reverting to a one-leg system.

In April, League secretary Graham Kelly announced that the Football League Cup was open to sponsorship, and invited applications.

British International Championship

The British International Championship has been rescheduled for the 1981–82 season, with half the fixtures to be played in midweek in February and April, and the other half at the end of the season in the week following the Cup final, only the Scotland–England fixture being played on a Saturday (29 May).

In September 1980, the Football Association announced that there would be no allocation of tickets for the 1981 England–Scotland match at Wembley 'north of the border'. The Scottish Supporters' Club later challenged this decision in law on the grounds that it contravened the Race Relations Act, but they were unsuccessful. The FA made it clear that if these severe measures still did not curtail the vandalism and hooliganism associated with the traditional Scottish 'invasion' of London for the game, they might have to terminate what is the oldest international fixture in football.

Other Competitions

The formation was announced in December 1980 of the Semi-Professional Football League (South) for the 1982–83 season, an amalgamation of the Southern and Isthmian Leagues, with the Athenian, Hellenic, and Western Leagues serving as feeders. The Alliance Premier League announced its extension to 22 clubs for the 1981–82 season with the addition of Dagenham and Enfield. The Alliance also took steps to amend their rules to allow for the defection of the Southern League, one of their feeder leagues.

The Anglo-Scottish Cup Committee decided to scrap the competition after the Scottish League withdrew its clubs. They felt they had to take this decision owing to the continued absence of English First Division clubs.

New Scheme Announced by Football Trust

In January 1981, the Football Trust (which derives its income from spot-the-ball competitions run by the football pools) announced a new scheme to provide some £2 million to assist depressed areas. Administered by the Sports Council, the scheme was designed to provide more and better soccer-playing facilities in the heavily populated areas by assisting clubs and local councils. The Sports Council pointed out that there was nothing to prevent major clubs benefiting from the scheme provided any proposed developments were to the advantage of the local community. They would have to apply through their councils.

New Football League President

Newcastle United chairman Lord Westwood resigned as Football League president in March, and Burnley chairman Bob Lord took over as acting president.

Annual General Meeting

Jack Dunnett, 58, Labour MP for Nottingham East and the Chairman of Notts County, was elected President of the Football League, winning on a second ballot from John Smith, the Liverpool chairman, by 28 votes to 24. Ernie Clay (Fulham) and Jack Wiseman (Birmingham City) had been eliminated on the first ballot.

Altrincham, who had failed by only one vote to obtain election from the Alliance Premier League the previous year, received only 17 votes this time compared with Halifax Town 41, Hereford United 46, York City 46 and Tranmere Rovers 48 who were all re-elected.

Attendances fell by 11 per cent on the previous season, the aggregate being returned at 21,907,569 compared with 24,623,975 – a drop of 2,716,406 and considered to represent a loss of £6 million in attendance money.

There was a move to pressure the Football Association to reverse its controversial decision to forbid paid directors, clarify the lines of demarcation with the FA and attempt to curtail television coverage without infringing the present contract.

Everton successfully introduced a proposal to allow a single loan transfer to any club at any time from 1981–82.

Takeover at Crystal Palace

Crystal Palace had a traumatic season both on and off the field, and the eventual takeover of the club led to a change in the League's rules. On 17 December, Fulham chairman Ernie Clay announced that he had made an offer for a controlling interest in Crystal Palace. The following day Palace chairman Raymond Bloye admitted that he had received several offers for part or whole of his share holdings but strongly denied that he was leaving the club or selling his shares. Fulham's financial director Brian Dalton, however, claimed that Fulham had been negotiating a deal with Palace but that there were a number of other people attempting to outbid them. Among those who denied that they were bidding was Wimbledon chairman Ron Noades, who dismissed any such suggestions as a 'joke'. After weeks of rumour and denials, on 23 January Bloye sold his 75 per cent stake in Palace to a consortium headed by Noades for £600,000. One of the decisions of the meeting of the Football League chairmen on 9 February was that no club official could be involved in the administration of more than one club at a time, and as a result Noades stated that he was prepared to give up his shares in Wimbledon. On 19 February, however, he changed his mind and decided to retain his shares, while maintaining that he would play no part in the future plans of the club.

During the season, Palace had four managers. They started off with Terry Venables, but he left in mid-October to take over Tommy Docherty's job at Queen's Park Rangers. Ernie Walley was placed in temporary and then 'permanent' charge, but in early December, Malcolm Allison, sacked by Manchester City, was appointed joint manager with Walley and then sole manager. But when Ron Noades took over the club, he replaced Allison with Wimbledon manager Dario Gradi.

All-Seater Stadiums and Other Rebuilding

Following in the footsteps of Aberdeen and Clydebank north of the border, both Charlton (20,000) and Coventry (20,000) began construction of all-seater stadiums, the first English clubs to do so. Tottenham began the reconstruction of their main stand, and Chelsea announced plans for a £14m redevelopment, including the replacement of the 'Shed' terracing with a new stand.

Artificial Pitch for QPR

QPR chairman Jim Gregory announced plans on 23 March for a synthetic, all-weather pitch. Neither the Football League nor the FA raised objections, although they expressed reservations about the scheme. Work started on the laying of the £350,000 pitch as soon as Rangers' fixtures were completed. The new surface is manufactured in Canada.

Crowd Disturbances and Hooliganism

The FA's committee set up to deal with the problem of crowd disturbances met three times in September and October 1980 and prepared a memorandum. It proposed limitations on the sale of alcohol, new methods for the identification of trouble-makers, and stronger measures against premeditated foul play, and discussed matters over which the FA has no jurisdiction (such as attendance centres, stiffer penalties for offenders, and the sale of alcohol in various places). Five members of the FA visited the Home Secretary on 15 December to put their recommendations, and received both approval and appreciation of the measures being taken by the FA and the Football League in co-operation. The FA is preparing a code of conduct, and one item of behaviour they criticize is the overexuberant clenched-fist gesture employed by players after scoring goals. Many clubs objected to the proposed ban on the sale of alcohol inside grounds and its implementation was delayed pending further investigation.

The need for further measures was underlined during the season by several incidents. Aggravating the rapidly declining reputation of British soccer fans abroad, the drunken behaviour of a number of West Ham followers at the Bernabeu Stadium, Madrid, on 17 September forced UEFA to take serious action. The incidents occurred at the first leg of West Ham's European Cup-Winners' Cup match with Castilla, and in addition to a heavy fine, West Ham had to play the return leg behind closed doors.

Domestic incidents were no less serious, and included a riot of Sheffield Wednesday fans at Oldham on 6 September which reduced their manager Jackie Charlton to tears. Hurling bricks, bottles, and anything else available when the referee sent off Terry Curran, the hooligans scaled barriers and surged onto the pitch. The referee led the players off, and they were unable to return for nearly half an hour.

Oldham were inadvertently involved in another serious incident when they played at Kenilworth Road on 26 April. With their team 2-1 down and their hopes of promotion fading, hundreds of young Luton fans invaded the pitch with three minutes to go, in what was a blatant attempt to have the game abandoned. The referee took the players off for ten minutes, and according to Oldham manager Jimmy Frizzell advised him to leave striker Rodger Wylde in the dressing-room. In the event, he did not, although Wylde had been the object of much abuse from the terraces after an early foul and he had scored both Oldham goals.

The most tragic occurrence, however, was the death of a 17-year-old Middlesbrough supporter, who was found in the road near Ayresome Park with severe head injuries after Middlesbrough's game with Nottingham Forest on 6 September, the same Saturday as the riot at Oldham.

On the bright side, it should be noted that, at the same time as West Ham were playing their European tie to empty stands and terraces, Ipswich were visiting Aris Salonika in the UEFA Cup and both their players and their fans drew strong praise from a top UEFA official at the match. West German Hubert Claessen remarked on the sportsmanship of the players, the exemplary behaviour of the fans, and the admirable organization of the trip by the club.

Rugby League

Fulham's experiment with Rugby League at Craven Cottage proved a success. With matches on Sundays in the Second Division of the League, Fulham opened their programme with a 24 points to 5 win over Wigan on 14 September in front of a 9554 crowd, much higher than their average home gate for soccer. They achieved promotion to Division 1 in their first season. Both Cardiff and Carlisle entered teams in Division 2 of the Rugby League for 1981–82.

Advertising and Sponsorship

Advertising on shirts continued to be a thorny problem with the TV companies. ATV planned to show highlights of the Aston Villa v Brighton League match (22 October) on a news programme, but withdrew their cameras when Brighton refused to change their shirts bearing the name of their sponsors, British Caledonian. In February, Nottingham Forest were fined £7000 by UEFA for displaying advertising material on their shirts, and a month later they, Bolton, and Newcastle were each fined £1000 by the FA for shirt advertising in televised FA Cup ties in January. Writing in FA Today, FA Secretary Ted Croker suggested that, if the government were prepared to put back into the game some of the millions they were 'creaming off' from football pools, clubs would be prepared to discontinue raising revenue by such controversial means as 'using players as mobile billboards'.

In August, Coventry City announced plans for a £250,000 sponsorship deal with Talbot, and that they would be known in the 1981–82 season as 'Coventry-Talbot', but the FA rejected the idea. The Football League proposed to find a sponsor for the League Cup (see above).

FIFA's Ultimatum to the NASL

In an exercise in brinkmanship, the NASL resisted FIFA's demand that they should drop the 35-yard offside line and the three substitutes rule until the very last moment. Most club owners were furious at FIFA's ultimatum, and a major row developed between NASL Commissioner Phil Woosnam and Gene Edwards, President of the US Soccer Federation, who backed FIFA and were accused by Woosnam of blocking an attempted compromise. A couple of hours before the opening of the NASL season on 28 March, the NASL backed down and temporarily suspended the offending practices so that the League would operate under FIFA rules pending further discussions, only for FIFA to allow them to carry on at the last minute.

British International Championship

With England declining to play Northern Ireland in Belfast because of the political unrest in the province and Wales deciding to follow their example, the 1980–81 British International Championship was declared null and void at a meeting of the Home Associations on 13 June, 1981, though the other four fixtures had been completed. Scotland had been the only country to play all three of its matches.

SPORT AND THE LAW

Sport and the law in 1980–81 moved on from the previous season's experiences with charities and violence, to companies, contracts and commercial causes.

The Crystal Palace–Wimbledon boardroom shuffles before Christmas exposed gaps in the Football League–FA Regulations and Rules, and these were further emphasised with the end-of-season managerial merry-go-round. West Bromwich Albion threatened to take legal action for compensation concerning Ron Atkinson's contract termination on moving to Old Trafford, and newly promoted Rotherham United were reported to have 'taken urgent legal advice' after Ian Porterfield accepted Sheffield United's managerial offer. Contract breakages are not as dramatic as leg breakages, but the law protects them equally effectively. These two examples pinpoint an issue long overdue for investigation: to what extent can company club football directors create a damages claim for directly or indirectly interfering with another club's existing contract with its manager?

Such action is a remedy well known to the courts. If written specifically into Football League and FA conditions, it would go a long way to making more acceptable the face of football capitalism. For the law of the land is as acceptable to football company boardroom violation of contracts as it is to penalising violence on and off the field.

On that recurring unhappy theme, the season ended almost as it began. The minority disgrace of England's supporters at Basle on the occasion of the end-of-season international against Switzerland threw the mind back to the opening explosions of violence both on and off the field at its commencement. Vince Hilaire of Crystal Palace pushed over a referee and was found guilty by a disciplinary tribunal of bringing the game into disrepute. Charlie George of Southampton was disciplined by his club and fined by local magistrates for assaulting a photographer at the Norwich City ground; and the law and sport merged dramatically when a police officer marched onto the field at Colchester to remonstrate about a defender's verbal chastisement of his own goalkeeper. This occasion was not without precedent. In the late 1960s, a visiting player at Portsmouth made rude signs during an FA Cup tie which could have incited crowd disturbance. A local policeman, on that occasion, attempted to object too. Each time the referee complained, but forgot how the law of the land transcends the field of play; and both referees could have been at risk for obstructing the respective police officers in the execution of their duty.

Crowd violence doubtless reflected the minority elements which have wreaked so much havoc to the game's image. Unhappily they cannot be ignored, however disproportionate they are numerically to the genuine followers. At the beginning of the season, on 17 August, 1980, 16 police were injured and 63 arrests were made at Hillsborough when Sheffield Wednesday played Newcastle United. Three weeks later, when Oldham Athletic entertained Sheffield Wednesday, the crowd invaded the pitch. Both clubs were charged domestically with bringing the game into disrepute; and Wednesday were found guilty because of misbehaviour by a minority of their supporters.

In due course the FA blamed the Government, the Government through the Minister with special responsibility for sport blamed the football authorities, and what has become accepted is the reality of how a game reflects the society and conditions of the times within which it is played. Alcohol was recognised as one element causing the problems, and so legislation was passed by Parliament against drink at football matches in Scotland and on British Rail respectively under the Criminal Justice (Scotland) Act and a bye-law approved by the Minister of Transport.

Against this background, the election of Mr Jack Dunnett, MP, chairman of Notts County, as the Football League's new president, and the election of Mr Bert Millichip, chairman of West Bromwich Albion, to the chairmanship of the FA, take on a special significance. Each is a practising solicitor and brings to the game's administration a wealth of legal experience and expertise, which this review of last season suggests will be welcome at all levels. Not least will be the problems at the international levels. From distances as far afield as Belfast and Johannesburg, British clubs and players found themselves involved in legal wrangles.

The Northern Ireland FA claimed compensation from the Welsh and English FAs after each had withdrawn from the Home International fixtures in Belfast because of the political violence in that city; and the fully integrated and multi-racial Football Council of South Africa (FCSA), through its black president, Mr George Thabe, claimed after a FIFA ban on an English players' coaching/playing tour: 'We have no alternative but to try to breach the isolation effects of FIFA's expulsion of South Africa whenever and wherever possible. We have endeavoured with a good deal of success to rid South Africa of racism and race discrimination, and we cannot let the sport suffer because of the laws of the country.' Indeed, nearer home, in London's Westminster County Court, the FA successfully resisted a complaint that it had racially discriminated against Scottish soccer fans by banning ticket sales to them in seeking to protect the world's oldest soccer international, between the two countries, from possible closure because of recent lawless violence on the terraces.

At school and for the millions of club players throughout the world, soccer is still and always will be a game of fun and joy. But when money and international politics become involved, the law is the ultimate referee.

EDWARD GRAYSON

CROWD VIOLENCE

Sam Phillips was banned from attending Ledbury Town's home matches in 1980–81 for allegedly assaulting a referee. But he still watched his team through a hedge surrounding the ground. Mr Phillips, variously described as aged between 77 and 82, had apparently rendered the shirt of a referee to a condition 'torn beyond repair'.

AWARDS 1980–81

FOOTBALLER OF THE YEAR

The Football Writers' Association award for the Footballer of the Year went to Frans Thijssen, the Dutch international midfield player of Ipswich Town. Ipswich players dominated the voting, with captain Mick Mills finishing as runner-up and John Wark being placed third. Billy Bonds (West Ham U) and Dennis Mortimer (Aston Villa) tied for fourth place, and another Ipswich player, Arnold Muhren, a Dutch international himself, came fifth.

Award Winners

1947–48 Stanley Matthews (Blackpool), 1948–49 Johnny Carey (Manchester U), 1949–50 Joe Mercer (Arsenal), 1950–51 Harry Johnston (Blackpool), 1951–52 Billy Wright (Wolverhampton W), 1952–53 Nat Lofthouse (Bolton W), 1953–54 Tom Finney (Preston NE), 1954–55 Don Revie (Manchester C), 1955–56 Bert Trautmann (Manchester C), 1956–57 Tom Finney (Preston NE), 1957–58 Danny Blanchflower (Tottenham H), 1958–59 Syd Owen (Luton T), 1959–60 Bill Slater (Wolverhampton W), 1960–61 Danny Blanchflower (Tottenham H), 1961–62 Jimmy Adamson (Burnley), 1962–63 Stanley Matthews (Stoke C), 1963–64 Bobby Moore (West Ham U), 1964–65 Bobby Collins (Leeds U), 1965–66 Bobby Charlton (Manchester U), 1966–67 Jackie Charlton (Leeds U), 1967–68 George Best (Manchester U), 1968–69 Dave Mackay (Derby Co) shared with Tony Book (Manchester C), 1969–70 Billy Bremner (Leeds U), 1970–71 Frank McLintock (Arsenal), 1971–72 Gordon Banks (Stoke C), 1972–73 Pat Jennings (Tottenham H), 1973–74 Ian Callaghan (Liverpool), 1974–75 Alan Mullery (Fulham), 1975–76 Kevin Keegan (Liverpool), 1976–77 Emlyn Hughes (Liverpool), 1977–78 Kenny Burns (Nottingham F), 1978–79 Kenny Dalglish (Liverpool), 1979–80 Terry McDermott (Liverpool), 1980–81 Frans Thijssen (Ipswich T).

INTRODUCTION TO CLUB SECTION

For the first time in the history of Rothmans Football Yearbook, there is a major alteration in the listing of career totals for Football League players. On the fourth page of each club's section, the accumulative figures of League appearances include both full appearances and those made as a substitute.

However, in order that these figures can be broken down each season, they will continue to be split on the third page of the club's section as in previous years. For example, the 29+1s will still be shown on page three, but will go forward to page four as 30 – to be added to any previous total for that particular player.

It should be stressed that these substitute appearances are confined only to those players who actually appeared in the match in question and not to nominated substitutes who did not get on to the field of play during the game.

The actual players' appearances have been checked and re-checked while this change has been effected. Wherever discovered, alterations from previous years, including changes in goalscorers, have been included.

Over the years there have been a number of queries raised concerning the attendance figures which appear on these club pages. Those which feature on page two of each club are taken either from press sources at the time of the match or from estimated figures. But the final attendance figures for the season, which also incorporate the club's average crowd at home, are those officially supplied by the Football League.

On page four of the club section, the asterisk * which appears with the name of a player means that he was given a free transfer by that club at the end of the 1980–81 season. The list of players on the club's page four is based on the retained list. Any subsequent transfers appear under the section provided elsewhere in the yearbook, and the record of such players will appear under their former club. The asterisk against a number on page three of the club section denotes the player substituted. In the Scottish League, the additional dagger refers to the second substituted player.

Because of the pressure of space, it is not possible to include a list of apprentices, non-contract players and associated schoolboys retained by clubs, but those under these categories who made appearances in the Football League during 1980–81 are included.

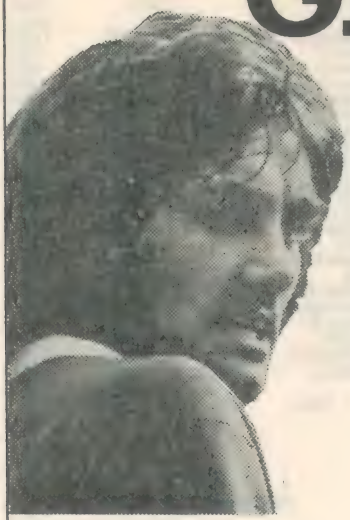
GEORGE BEST



Where do I go from here?

An Autobiography

Playboy ... layabout ... exhibitionist ... rebel ... alcoholic ... seducer ... Just a selection of the many instant labels that have been pinned on George Best during his extraordinary soccer career. Now he tells his own story, revealing the real person behind the image created by thousands of newspaper column inches.

THE SCOTTISH SEASON 1980–81

Football in Scotland continues to attract fewer spectators as the years go by. There are plenty who seek the reasons – the pull of television, the call of many other growing sports, fear of bad behaviour in the crowds, lack of reasonable facilities at the grounds, and so on. There are doubtless many reasons why our crowds decrease, and there is no immediate answer, no instant remedy which will bring the masses flocking back. This is a pity, for there was much to talk about in this season, much to discuss, much to enthuse about; and not a little to complain about, too.

The home season was full of incident. In the League Cup we had the unprecedented spectacle of two Dundee teams contesting the final at a Dundee ground and with a Dundee referee. That may seem a little parochial, but substitute 'Glasgow' for 'Dundee' – and how often have we seen that! Anyway, a Dundee final it was, and if United were well ahead on the day, nothing could take away from some stirring results from the First Division side, which included the dismissal of Aberdeen, then Premier Division leaders.

The Premier was in many ways the least interesting of the divisions: Aberdeen started in fine form, but they faltered in mid-stream and Celtic swept through to win by a substantial margin in the end. It did not pass without notice that Aberdeen's decline coincided almost with the injury to Gordon Strachan; and Aberdeen had other injury problems too. This undoubtedly upset their rhythm but it would be unfair to Celtic to make too much of this. After all, a team must have the resilience and depth to ride its injuries if it is to dwell in the halls of greatness. Celtic looked a good deal more mature this year, and deservedly won after the usual long and gruelling season. Dundee United, surely recognised now as one of our top teams, had the ability to demolish opposition, and on occasions they were unstoppable and even almost ready to receive the public plaudits of their perfection-demanding manager. Rangers were inconsistent in the League, and St Mirren never quite recaptured the previous season's high form. For the rest, it was mostly the scuttle away from relegation, but too soon it was obvious that Kilmarnock and Hearts were this year's appointed candidates and by Christmas they were almost resigned to it.

In Division One there were spirited struggles at both ends of the table. Hibs were out to assert their divine right to ascend and they did this in fairly regal fashion – though not without the odd stutter. Dundee started abysmally, and new manager Donald Mackay must have had nightmares as his team fumbled at the foot of the table. However, in time they began to gain some confidence and started to move upwards. For a long while Raith Rovers looked certainties for promotion, but there were other candidates – Ayr, Motherwell and, notably, St Johnstone. With only a few games left, there were still five teams in the hunt and all games were crucial. In the end Dundee just pipped St Johnstone, but they needed points from the last game on the last day to do it. In the relegation area, Berwick were always in danger; as the season progressed, Dunfermline and Stirling Albion were likely to join them. For a while, Berwick looked as if they might avoid the drop, but in the end they succumbed and were joined by Stirling, who failed to score in their last 13 League matches.

There are always many who like to see Queen's Park doing well. This was their season in the Second Division, and they finished as champions after leading the field for a considerable period. In fact, they were never out of the top group throughout the season. Good luck to them! They will need it in the new season, for undoubtedly this great amateur club with a great tradition will have again been the training ground for future professionals and will need to start team building all over again. Alloa looked strong for some time, Brechin had a long climb from the lower end to achieve third position at one time, but their challenge came to nothing, and Cowdenbeath all but reached promotion before losing the last vital game. It was left to Queen of the South to take five points from the final possible six and thus to clinch a berth in Division One. It was all interesting and exciting and, taken with the last-match decisions in the First Division, meant as good a last day to the League season as there has been.

So to the Cup. It is always good to see Highland League clubs making progress in this competition, and this year Buckie Thistle and Inverness Thistle both reached the third round, disposing of three Second Division clubs on the way. Ultimately Division One opposition proved too strong, but it is worth noting that more than 3,000 turned out to see Stirling win at Buckie. St Mirren made a quick exit at the hands of Dumbarton, and in the fourth round Clydebank beat Kilmarnock after two drawn games; but the real shock in that round was averted by seconds when Rangers scored an injury-time goal to draw 3-3 with St Johnstone – and subsequently won the replay comfortably. There were four First Division teams in the last eight, but they were all eliminated. Rangers won a rather heavy semi-final against Morton, while Dundee United and Celtic needed two games before the former took the other place in the final. A no-score draw was barely a fair reflection of United's superiority in the final, though the game all but went Rangers' way in the end, the last-minute penalty being missed. The replay saw Rangers in a completely different mood. They took good chances when they came and cruised to victory, with United's rather light ball-players given little chance by a firm Rangers defence.

International results were, for the most part, encouraging and (dare it be said) there looks to be a reasonable chance of reaching Spain in 1982. Jock Stein wisely remains sphinx-like: some of his experiments – for example, at Swansea – did not work out well, but some new, young players were given their chance, and others reached full maturity in their international careers. The Wembley result was sweet, but we are under no delusions about the standards of World Cup opposition. There is hope, but this time the fans are keeping their feet firmly on the ground.

There have been more ominous rumbles about the demise of Hampden, and a decision looks to be not far away. I hope that matters may be satisfactorily concluded: international football without the home inspiration of Hampden is hard to think about and no other ready-made headquarters obviously available.

There did seem some chance of a reorganisation in the Leagues, and there were three proposals debated: in the end, however, we are back as we were. Can the game survive in its present shape? We shall see.

ENGLAND'S WORST-EVER RUN

During the 1980–81 season, England suffered their worst run in international history. They completed six matches without a win, losing four times in this sequence. They had once gone seven games, between May 1958 and October 1958, without victory but in that run they drew five and lost only two. Between March and May 1981, England played five successive matches at Wembley, lost three, drew two and scored only one goal.

OLDEST SURVIVING FA CUP FINALIST

At the time of the 100th FA Cup Final in May 1981, the oldest surviving final player was Billy Gillespie, in his 90th year and living in Bexley, Kent. Sadly, he died later in the year, in July. He captained Sheffield United when they beat Cardiff City 1-0 at Wembley in 1925. Born in the village of Kerry Keel, County Donegal, he was capped 25 times by Ireland from 1913 to 1930 and scored 12 goals.

IRISH FOOTBALL 1980–81

By Malcolm Brodie

Only a year after winning the British Championship, Northern Ireland passed through one of its gravest crises when England and Wales decided not to fulfil their fixtures at Windsor Park, Belfast, because of the civil unrest prevalent in the province throughout May. It was a disastrous blow, taken against the advice of the Government and the security authorities and without consultation with the Irish FA. It meant a huge financial loss, but more important it dropped morale to zero point as World Cup interest reached its zenith.

Only one fixture was played – that against Scotland at Hampden Park, Glasgow – but the players, naturally, found it difficult to raise their game. Fortunately, World Cup prospects appear reasonably satisfactory with the final two matches at home against Scotland and Israel. Manager Billy Bingham remains confident that his side can be one of the two nations qualifying from what has been a fascinating Group Six. His approach to the series has been thorough and professional, with the advantages of a settled side always evident.

Domestically it was a season when Linfield found themselves with no major trophy, winning the County Antrim Shield as the consolation prize in their final fixture. Yet they revealed a progressive attitude by inviting Southampton, Manchester United, West Bromwich Albion, Blackburn Rovers and Tampa Bay Rowdies, as well as the Dutch second division club, Haarlem, who had provided facilities in Holland for the European game with Nantes – the second played away from home under the UEFA ban after their fans had rioted a year earlier at Dundalk.

The trophies were spread throughout the country, with Glentoran winning the Irish League and Ronnie McFall the 'Manager of the Year'; Ballymena United took the Irish Cup and the Ulster Cup under acting-manager Ivan Murray, who stood in for Alan Campbell, seriously injured in a car crash in August. Cliftonville, a team whose fortunes have revived over the last few years, won the Gold Cup but failed to make any impact in the other competitions.

For most of the season there was speculation that the Irish League would be increased from 12 to 14 clubs, with Derry City and possibly Newry Town re-admitted, but it was decided not to proceed with this at present. Carrick Rangers, Omagh Town and Ballyclare Comrades had also sought admission, but Distillery, who opened New Grosvenor Stadium near Lisburn at the start of the season, and Bangor, the two bottom clubs, were re-elected.

Because of fixture and other difficulties, the Tyler All-Ireland Cup was postponed and the next competition will not be played in the latter part of the 1981–82 season. However, to ensure continuity of involvement, Tylers sponsored in April the League of Ireland Irish League game at Tolka Park, Dublin, the first fixture of this nature since 1974.

Perhaps the most significant move was the resurgence of activity by the Northern Ireland Professional Footballers' Association under its secretary Peter Dornan, a Belfast solicitor and Linfield midfielder. With 100 per cent backing, they drew up a new form of contract which has been accepted by the soccer authorities and will be the subject of further discussion. Players had threatened to strike after they had reached deadlock, but fortunately this did not materialise. From now on, players' status will be considerably improved.

Although attendances increased, sponsorship, transfers – now much more limited than before – and social clubs provided the bulk of revenue, with every competition apart from the Irish League championship having its backer. Officials are hoping that the League championship, too, will soon be supported by commercial enterprise.

GOLDEN BOOT AWARD

Winner of the Golden Boot Award for Europe's leading League goalscorer in 1980–81 was Georgi Slavkov, of Thrakia Plovdiv and Bulgaria, with 31 goals. Runner-up was Tibor Nyilasi of the Hungarian club, Ferencvaros, with 30 goals, followed by Karl-Heinz Rummenigge of West Germany's Bayern Munich with 29. Andrezj Szarmach, the Pole, was fourth with 28. Szarmach had started the season in his native Poland with Stal Mielec but joined the French club, Auxerre, halfway through the season.

EUROPEAN FOOTBALLER OF THE YEAR 1980

If there needed to be any further reminder of the dearth of individual talent in Europe, then the overwhelmingly emphatic success of Karl-Heinz Rummenigge in becoming European Footballer of the Year provided it. He received 122 votes out of a possible 125 and was almost four times ahead of his nearest rival, fellow-countryman Bernd Schuster who finished second with 34 points.

Rummenigge, who was runner-up in 1979 to Kevin Keegan, is reported to be the highest-paid footballer in West Germany with an annual income of around £125,000, rather appropriate for a former bank clerk. The European award was one of half a dozen the Bayern Munich player picked up at home and abroad to underline the scarcity of first-class players.

Though Rummenigge picked up only one vote in 1978, he has since improved noticeably in the eyes of the panel. But if his rise has been dramatic, Keegan's demise has been just as sudden. After being a European super-star for two years, the Southampton and former Hamburg and Liverpool forward did not receive one vote in 1980. However, the West German Bundesliga has provided the last five winners, including Keegan in his stint with Hamburg.

Rummenigge, top scorer in the Bundesliga in 1979–80 with 26 goals and 29 in 1980–81, as well as being a regular choice for his country with 40 appearances up to the Copa de Oro competition in Uruguay in December 1980, has skill, speed and finishing ability – apparently qualities which are rare these days.

OTHER RECORDS

The oldest player to appear in the Football League was Neil McBain who played in goal for New Brighton v Hartlepools U, Division 3(N), 15 March, 1947. He was then aged 52 years 4 months.

The oldest player to appear for any of the home countries in a full international was Billy Meredith, who was nearly 46 years of age when he played for Wales v England, 15 March, 1920.

The record for most appearances in the Football League during one season by a player over 40 years of age was created by Bob McGrory. In his last season as a player with Stoke C (1934–35) he appeared in all 42 First Division games. Bob was then 43 years of age.

The record for most consecutive appearances in the Football League was created by Harold Bell, Tranmere R centre-half. From the opening game of season 1946–47 Bell did not miss a single game until August 1955 – a run of 401 consecutive Division 3(N) matches. Including FA Cup, Liverpool Senior Cup and Cheshire Bowl games, Bell enjoyed a run of 459 consecutive first team appearances.

John Trollope created a club record by making 770 League appearances for Swindon T between 1960 and 1980. In the Scottish League the record for most appearances for a single club was created by Bob Ferrier with 626 for Motherwell between 1918 and 1937.

Billy Wright (Wolverhampton W) set up a world record by playing in 70 consecutive internationals for England, from 1951 to 1959.

Since substitutes were introduced into League football in 1965, Bristol C is the club that has played through the longest spell without calling upon one of these players – a run of 52 League games, 4 FA Cup, and 2 League Cup ties from February 1966 to April 1967.

The shortest player to appear in the Football League is outside-right Fred le May, who was only 5ft tall. He played for Thames 1930–31, Watford 1931–32, and Clapton Orient 1932–33. The tallest was Albert Iremonger, Notts Co and Lincoln C goalkeeper 1904–27. He was 6ft 5in tall.

The longest FA Cup tie was the 4th qualifying round match between Alvechurch and Oxford C in 1971. It needed 11 hours (six games) before Alvechurch won 1-0.

The longest single game on record is that between Stockport Co and Doncaster R, 30 March, 1946. In an effort to reach a decisive result, this Third Division (N) Cup tie continued for 203 minutes before bad light forced an abandonment.

Rochdale suffered 14 consecutive home defeats in Division 3(N) in 1931–32. This is a Football League record. After beating New Brighton 3-2 on 7 November, 1931, they did not get another home point until holding Barrow to a goalless draw in their second home game of season 1932–33. During that same period Rochdale suffered one run of 17 consecutive defeats (home and away) – also a Football League record.

In season 1904–05 Manchester U won 14 consecutive Division 2 games. This Football League record was equalled by Bristol C and Preston NE in Division 2 in 1905–06 and 1950–51 respectively.

The Scottish League record for the longest run of consecutive victories was created by Morton in Division 2 in 1963–64 when they won 23 games in a row.

Nottingham F were undefeated in a run of 42 First Division games, November 1977 to December 1978. This is a Football League record.

The longest run without defeat in a single season of Football League games is one of 30 matches by Burnley in Division 1 in 1920–21.

In the Scottish League, Celtic created a record by remaining undefeated in a run of 62 games – November 1915 to April 1917.

Blackburn Rovers hold the record for the longest run of consecutive FA Cup ties without defeat. From December 1883 to December 1886 they were unbeaten in 24 Cup ties and won the trophy three times during this period.

Only two players have scored two goals for each side in a Football League game. Sam Wynne did so in a Division 2 game, 6 October, 1923, scoring twice for Oldham Ath as well as putting two through his own goal for Manchester U. Chris Nicholl (Aston Villa) scored all the goals in a 2-2 draw with Leicester C, Division 1, 20 March, 1976.

Jimmy Cookson reached a first century of Football League goals in the shortest time. He made his début for Chesterfield in 1925 and reached his century in December 1927 with West Bromwich A his 87th Football League game.

The record number of goals scored by a player making his Football League début is five – by George Hilsdon for Chelsea v Glossop, Division 2, 1 September, 1906.

The record for scoring the fastest goal in a Football League game is claimed by Jim Fryatt. According to referee Mr R. J. Simon this player scored for Bradford v Tranmere R only 4 seconds after the kick-off, 25 April, 1964. Fastest own goal was in 6 seconds by Pat Kruse (Torquay U) for Cambridge U, 3 January, 1977.

The fastest goals scored in the FA Cup Final at Wembley were obtained in the first minute. In 1928 John Roscamp put Blackburn R ahead when he charged both the Huddersfield goalkeeper and the ball into the net, and in 1955 Jackie Milburn headed Newcastle U into a first-minute lead over Manchester C.

John McIntyre scored four goals in 5 minutes for Blackburn R v Everton, Division 1, 16 September, 1922.

W. G. Richardson also scored four goals in 5 minutes for WBA, Division 1, 7 November, 1931, but this was even more remarkable because the feat was achieved in an away game – against West Ham U.

The record number of penalties missed by one side in a Football League Division 1 game is three: by Fletcher (2) and Thornley for Manchester C against Newcastle U, 27 January, 1912.

The most penalties scored by a player in a First Division game is three – Billy Walker for Aston Villa v Bradford C, 12 November, 1921; Charlie Mitten for Manchester U v Aston Villa, 8 March, 1950; and Ken Barnes for Manchester C v Everton, 7 December, 1957.

The record number of players from the same club in an England team is seven: Frank Moss, George Male, Eddie Hapgood, Wilf Copping, Raymond Bowden, Ted Drake and Clifford Bastin, all of Arsenal, played against Italy at Highbury, 14 November, 1934.

The England team twice included all Corinthian players in the 1890s but this cannot be considered a record because the Corinthians were a combined eleven, most of their players also appearing with other clubs.

The England team that won the 1966 World Cup created a record for the country by remaining unchanged in six consecutive games – the quarter-final, semi-final and final of the World Cup and their next three games.

England's longest run without defeat is one of 20 games between 1889 and 1896.

The biggest Championship-winning margin for any division of the Football League is 15 points; by Middlesbrough in Division 2 in 1973–74.

The smallest number of players called upon by a club to complete a season of Football League games is 14. Liverpool did so when winning the Championship in 1965–66, and Aston Villa equalled it in 1980–81 when they too won the Championship.

In the Scottish League, Dundee called upon only 15 players throughout season 1961–62, when they won the Championship.

The goalscoring record for a goalkeeper in a single season of Football League games is five (all from penalties) in 1923–24 by Arnold Birch of Chesterfield in Division 3(N).

Five men have both played in and managed Football League Championship winning teams: Ted Drake, Arsenal, centre-forward, 1933–34, 1934–35, 1937–38, Chelsea, manager, 1954–55. Bill Nicholson, Tottenham H, right half-back, 1950–51, manager, 1960–61. Alf Ramsey, right-back, Tottenham H, 1950–51, Ipswich T, manager, 1961–62. Joe Mercer, left-half, Everton 1938–39, Arsenal, 1947–48, 1952–53, Manchester C, manager, 1967–68. Dave Mackay, left-half, Tottenham H, 1960–61, Derby Co, manager, 1974–75. Bob Paisley, Liverpool, left half-back, 1946–47, manager, 1975–76, 1976–77, 1978–79, 1979–80.

In 1973–74 Leeds U created a Football League record for the longest run without defeat from the start of a season – 29 First Division games before losing 2-3 at Stoke. It could be said that this only equalled Liverpool's run in the Second Division in 1893–94 when they were unbeaten in all 28 games. Their 29th game that season was the extra 'Test Match' to decide promotion and relegation between the First and Second Divisions.

The youngest player to appear in the Football League is Albert Geldard who was aged 15 years 156 days when making his début for Bradford against Millwall, Division 2, 16 September, 1929.

The youngest player in an FA Cup Final is Paul Allen, who was aged 17 years 256 days when West Ham U beat Arsenal 1-0, 10 May, 1980.

The highest number of players ordered off in the Football League in a single day is eight, 5 October, 1974. This figure also represents the record for the FA Cup competition. Eight players were ordered off in 1st round matches, 9 January, 1915.

MISCELLANEOUS

Brazil set up a record for undefeated matches in the World Cup in the 1958 and 1962 finals, playing 13, winning 11, and drawing two. Their run ended when they lost 3-1 to Hungary in the 1966 World Cup.

Hungary went 13 years undefeated at home. After losing 7-2 to Sweden in 1943 they were unbeaten at home until they lost 4-2 to Czechoslovakia in 1956. The Hungarians also had a run of 29 games before losing: from their 5-3 defeat against Austria in May 1950 until they lost the World Cup final 3-2 to West Germany in July 1954.

Real Madrid were undefeated in League matches at home from February 1957, when they lost 3-2 to Atlético Madrid, until beaten again by Atlético 1-0 in March 1965. Between these defeats they won 114 matches and drew eight.

Ferenc Deak was one of the most prolific goalscorers in League football in the years immediately after the war. In 1945–46 he scored 66 goals for Szentlorinci AC in Hungary, 48 in 1946–47, and 59 in 1948–49 when with Ferencvaros.

Players who have won international caps for three different countries are Ladislav Kubala, capped for Hungary, Czechoslovakia, and Spain, and Alfredo Di Stefano for Argentina, Colombia, and Spain.

The Nordahl brothers, Knut, Bertil, and Gunnar, won Olympic gold medals with Sweden in 1948.

In 1955–56 Fiorentina went 33 Italian League matches without defeat.

In what is thought to be the longest match on record, Santos (Brazil) and Penarol (Uruguay) played 3½ hours from 2 August to 3 August after kicking off at 9.30 p.m. The match ended 3-3 after interruptions during play.

The first international played in Europe, other than between British teams, was Austria 5 Hungary 0 on 12 October, 1902. The first match in South America was a 1-1 draw between Argentina and Uruguay in 1905.

The first transfer fee approaching £1 million was £922,300 for Johan Cruyff from Ajax (Holland) to Barcelona (Spain) in 1973.

Firsts in Football

Football League

The first five Football League games were played on 8 September, 1888. Bolton Wanderers were three goals up in about six minutes against Derby Co, but were eventually beaten 6-3. Cox of Aston Villa scored the first 'own goal', giving Wolverhampton W an early lead, but Villa recovered to draw 1-1.

Huddersfield T became the first team to complete a hat-trick of League Championships – 1924–25–26.

FA Cup

Tottenham H were the first Southern club to win the Cup when they beat Sheffield U in 1901. Spurs were then members of the Southern League and so were the first and only non-League club to carry off the trophy.

King George V was the first reigning monarch to attend a Cup Final. He saw Burnley beat Liverpool at the Crystal Palace in 1914.

David Jack (Bolton W) scored the first goal in a Wembley Cup Final. This was in 1923 when the crowd broke in to see the Wanderers beat West Ham U 2-0.

Extra time was first played in the Cup Final in 1877. Wanderers and Oxford University were drawing 1-1 at full-time; Wanderers won 2-1.

Internationals and representative games

The first representative game was played at Battersea Park, 31 March, 1866, London beating Sheffield by two goals and four touch-downs to nil.

The first official England v Scotland international was played at the West of Scotland Cricket Ground, Partick, 30 November, 1872, and resulted in a goalless draw.

Wales played their first international in 1876, losing 4-0 to Scotland in Glasgow.

Ireland's first international was against England at Bloomfield, Belfast, in 1882 when the visitors won 13-0.

Caps were first awarded for appearances in internationals in 1886.

The Football League played their first representative game in April 1891. It was against the Football Alliance at Sheffield and resulted in a 1-1 draw.

England's first defeat on foreign soil in a full international was 3-4 by Spain in Madrid in 1929.

England's first home defeat by a continental country was at Wembley in 1953 when Hungary won 6-3.

Scotland's first home defeat by a foreign team was at Hampden Park in 1950 when Austria won 1-0.

Billy Wright became the first international in Britain to gain 100 caps when he captained England against Scotland at Wembley in April 1959.

Terry Venables was the first player to win international honours for England at five levels – Schoolboy, Youth, Amateur, Under-23 and Full International. He gained his first full cap in October 1964.

Floodlit football

The first-ever game by floodlight was between two Sheffield Association teams at Bramall Lane, 14 October, 1878.

The first FA Cup tie under floodlights was a replay between Kidderminster Harriers and Brierley Hill Alliance, 14 September, 1955.

Floodlights were first switched on during an international match in England in November 1955 at Wembley – England v Spain.

The first Football League game under floodlights was Portsmouth v Newcastle U at Fratton Park, 22 February, 1956.

The first full international played entirely under floodlights in Britain took place at Wembley in 1963 when England beat N Ireland 8-3.

Hat-tricks

The first hat-trick in an FA Cup Final was scored by William Townley for Blackburn R v Sheffield Wednesday in 1890.

Equipment, etc.

Shinguards were first introduced and registered by Sam Widdowson of Nottingham F in 1874. The cross-bar first replaced the tape in 1875, and the whistle was used by the referee for the first time in 1878. Goalnets were invented and patented by J. A. Brodie of Liverpool in 1890 and were first used in the FA Cup Final in 1892.

Substitutes

First substitute in a Football League game was Keith Peacock of Charlton Ath, at Bolton, 21 August, 1965.

The first instance of a substitute in a Home International Championship game was at Wrexham in 1889 when Pugh of Rhostyllen took over from the injured S. G. Gillam in the Welsh goal against Scotland.

England's first substitute in a full international was Jimmy Mullen (Wolverhampton W) who took over from the injured Jackie Milburn after 10 minutes of the game against Belgium in Brussels, 18 May, 1950.

The first substitute to score in a Football League game was Bobby Knox (Barrow) v Wrexham, Division 4, 21 August, 1965.

Transfers

The first four, five, six and seven-figure transfer fees between British clubs were as follows:

£1000 – Alf Common, Sunderland to Middlesbrough, 1905.

£10,890 – David Jack, Bolton W to Arsenal, 1928.

£110,000 – Alan Ball, Blackpool to Everton, 1966.

£1,000,000 – Trevor Francis, Birmingham C to Nottingham F, 1979.

Radio and TV

The first match broadcast in England was the First Division game between Arsenal and Sheffield U at Highbury, 22 January, 1927.

The first Football League game to be televised was Blackpool v Bolton W, 10 September, 1960.

The first FA Cup tie to be televised – other than the final – was Charlton Ath v Blackburn R, 5th round, 8 February, 1947.

Corner kick

Billy Smith was the first player to score direct from a corner kick in a Football League game – Huddersfield T v Arsenal, 11 October, 1924.

Limited Company

The first football club to form itself into a limited liability company was Birmingham C in 1888. At that time they were known as Small Heath.

Penalty kick

The first player to score from a penalty kick in a Football League match was Heath of Wolverhampton W v Accrington, Division 1, 14 September, 1891.

Professional

The identity of the first professional footballer may never be definitely established, but it was probably J. J. Lang, a Scot who joined Sheffield Wednesday in 1876 after playing for Clydesdale and Glasgow Eastern.

Tour

Oxford University were the first to send a football team on an overseas tour when in 1875 they visited Germany.

Sunday football

The first Football League game to be played on a Sunday was between Millwall and Fulham on the morning of 20 January, 1974. Eleven other Football League games were played later the same day.

LAWS OF THE GAME

The Laws of the Game and Decisions of the International Board that follow are reproduced with the special permission of FIFA, and the text is the official text as published by FIFA.

LAW I
THE FIELD OF PLAY

The Field of Play and appurtenances shall be as shown in the following plan:

(1) Dimensions. The field of play shall be rectangular, its length being not more than 130 yards nor less than 100 yards and its breadth not more than 100 yards nor less than 50 yards. (In International Matches the length shall be not more than 120 yards nor less than 110 yards and the breadth not more than 80 yards nor less than 70 yards.) The length shall in all cases exceed the breadth.

(2) Marking. The field of play shall be marked with distinctive lines, not more than 5 inches in width, not by a V-shaped rut, in accordance with the plan, the longer boundary lines being called the touch-lines and the shorter the goal-lines. A flag on a post not less than 5ft high and having a non-pointed top, shall be placed at each corner; a similar flag-post may be placed opposite the halfway line on each side of the field of play, not less than 1 yard outside the touch-line. A halfway-line shall be marked out across the field of play. The centre of the field of play shall be indicated by a suitable mark and a circle with a 10 yards radius shall be marked round it.

(3) The Goal-Area. At each end of the field of play two lines shall be drawn at right-angles to the goal-line, 6 yards from each goal-post. These shall extend into the field of play for a distance of 6 yards and shall be joined by a line drawn parallel with the goal-line. Each of the spaces enclosed by these goal lines and the goal-line shall be called a goal-area.

(4) The Penalty-Area. At each end of the field of play two lines shall be drawn at right-angles to the goal-line, 18 yards from each goal-post. These shall extend into the field of play for a distance of 18 yards and shall be joined by a line drawn parallel with the goal-line. Each of the spaces enclosed by these lines and the goal-line shall be called a penalty-area. A suitable mark shall be made within each penalty-area, 12 yards from the mid-point of the goal-line, measured along an undrawn line at right-angles thereto. These shall be the penalty-kick marks. From each penalty-kick mark an arc of a circle, having a radius of 10 yards, shall be drawn outside the penalty-area.

(5) The Corner-Area. From each corner-flag post a quarter circle, having a radius of 1 yard, shall be drawn inside the field of play.

(6) The Goals. The goals shall be placed on the centre of each goal-line and shall consist of two upright posts, equidistant from the corner-flags and 8 yards apart (inside measurement), joined by a horizontal cross-bar the lower edge of which shall be 8ft from the ground. The width and depth of the goal-posts and the width and depth of the cross-bars shall not exceed 5 inches (12cm). The goal-posts and the cross-bars shall have the same width.

Nets may be attached to the posts, cross-bars and ground behind the goals. They should be appropriately supported and be so placed as to allow the goal-keeper ample room.

Footnote

Goal nets. The use of nets made of hemp, jute or nylon is permitted. The nylon strings may, however, not be thinner than those made of hemp or jute.

Decisions of the International Board

(1) In International matches the dimensions of the field of play shall be: maximum 110×75 metres; minimum 100×64 metres.

(2) National Associations must adhere strictly to these dimensions. Each National Association organising an International Match must advise the visiting Association, before the match, of the place and the dimensions of the field of play.

(3) The Board has approved this table of measurements for the Laws of the Game:

130 yards	... 120 metres
120 yards	... 110
110 yards	... 100
100 yards	... 90

(4) The goal-line shall be marked the same width as the depth of the goal-posts and the cross-bar, so that the goal-line and goal-post will conform to the same interior and exterior edges.

(5) The 6 yards (for the outline of the goal-area) and the 18 yards (for the outline of the penalty-area) which have to be measured along the goal-line, must start from the inner sides of the goal-posts.

(6) The space within the inside areas of the field of play includes the width of the lines marking these areas.

(7) All Associations shall provide standard equipment, particularly in International Matches, when the Laws of the Game must be complied with in every respect and especially with regard to the size of the ball and other equipment which must conform to the regulations. All cases of failure to provide standard equipment must be reported to FIFA.

(8) In a match played under the Rules of a Competition, if the cross-bar becomes displaced or broken, play shall be stopped and the match abandoned unless the cross-bar has been repaired and replaced in position or a new one provided without such being a danger to the players. A rope is not considered to be a satisfactory substitute for a cross-bar.

In a Friendly Match, by mutual consent, play may be resumed without the cross-bar provided it has been removed and no longer constitutes a danger to the players. In these circumstances, a rope may be used as a substitute for a cross-bar. If a rope is not used and the ball crosses the goal-line at a point which in the opinion of the Referee is below where the cross-bar should have been he shall award a goal.

The game shall be restarted by the Referee dropping the ball at the place where it was when play was stopped.

(9) National Associations may specify such maximum and minimum dimensions for the cross-bars and goal-posts, within the limits laid down in Law I, as they consider appropriate.

(10) Goal-posts and cross-bars must be made of wood, metal or other approved material as decided from time to time by the International FA Board. They may be square, rectangular, round, half-round or elliptical in shape. Goal-posts and cross-bars made of other materials and in other shapes are not permitted.

(11) 'Curtain-raisers' to International Matches should only be played following agreement on the day of the match, and taking into account the condition of the field of play, between representatives of the two Associations and the Referee (of the International Match).

(12) National Associations, particularly in International Matches, should — restrict the number of photographers around the field of play,

— have a line ('photographers' line') marked behind the goal-lines at least two metres from the corner flag going through a point situated at least 3.5 metres behind the intersection of the goal-line with the line marking the goal area to a point situated at least six metres behind the goal-posts,

— prohibit photographers from passing over these lines,

— forbid the use of artificial lighting in the form of 'flashlights'.

LAW II – THE BALL

The ball shall be spherical; the outer casing shall be of leather or other approved materials. No material shall be used in its construction which might prove dangerous to the players.

The circumference of the ball shall not be more than 28in and not less than 27in. The weight of the ball at the start of the game shall not be more than 16oz nor less than 14oz. The pressure shall be equal to 0.6–0.7 atmosphere, which equals 9.0–10.5lb/sq in (=600–700gr/cm²) at sea level. The ball shall not be changed during the game unless authorised by the Referee.

Decisions of the International Board

(1) The ball used in any match shall be considered the property of the Association or Club on whose ground the match is played, and at the close of play it must be returned to the Referee.

(2) The International Board, from time to time, shall decide what constitutes approved materials. Any approved material shall be certified as such by the International Board.

(3) The Board has approved these equivalents of the weights specified in the Law: 14 to 16 ounces = 396 to 453 grammes.

(4) If the ball bursts or becomes deflated during the course of a match, the game shall be stopped and restarted by dropping the new ball at the place where the first ball became defective.

(5) If this happens during a stoppage of the game (place-kick, goal-kick, corner-kick, free-kick, penalty-kick or throw-in) the game shall be restarted accordingly.

LAW III – NUMBER OF PLAYERS

(1) A match shall be played by two teams, each consisting of not more than eleven players, one of whom shall be the goalkeeper.

(2) Substitutes may be used in any match played under the rules of a competition, subject to the following conditions:

(a) that the authority of the international association(s) or national association(s) concerned, has been obtained,

(b) that, subject to the restriction contained in the following paragraph (c), the rules of a competition shall state how many, if any, substitutes may be used, and

(c) that a team shall not be permitted to use more than two substitutes in any match.

(3) Substitutes may be used in any other match, provided that the two teams concerned reach agreement on a maximum number, not exceeding five, and that the terms of such agreement are intimated to the Referee, before the match. If the Referee is not informed, or if the teams fail to reach agreement, no more than two substitutes shall be permitted.

(4) Any of the other players may change places with the goalkeeper, provided that the Referee is informed before the change is made, and provided also, that the change is made during a stoppage in the game.

(5) When a goalkeeper or any other player is to be replaced by a substitute, the following conditions shall be observed:

(a) the Referee shall be informed of the proposed substitution, before it is made,

(b) the substitute shall not enter the field of play until the player he is replacing has left, and then only after having received a signal from the Referee,

(c) he shall enter the field during a stoppage in the game, and at the half-way line.

Punishment:

(a) Play shall not be stopped for an infringement of paragraph 4. The players concerned shall be cautioned immediately the ball goes out of play.

(b) For any other infringement of this law, the player concerned shall be cautioned, and if the game is stopped by the Referee, to administer the caution, it shall be restarted by an indirect free-kick, to be taken by a player of the opposing team, from the place where the ball was, when play was stopped. If the free-kick is awarded to a side within its own goal-area, it may be taken from any point within that half of the goal-area in which the ball was when play was stopped.

Decisions of the International Board

(1) The minimum number of players in a team is left to the discretion of National Associations.

(2) The Board is of the opinion that a match should not be considered valid if there are fewer than seven players in either of the teams.

(3) A competition may require that the referee shall be informed, before the start of the match, of the names of not more than five players, from whom the substitutes (if any) must be chosen.

(4) A player who has been ordered off before play begins may be replaced only by one of the named substitutes. The kick-off must not be delayed to allow the substitute to join his team.

A player who has been ordered off after play has started may not be replaced.

A named substitute who has been ordered off, either before or after play has started, may not be replaced (this decision relates only to players who are ordered off under Law XII. It does not apply to players who have infringed Law IV).

(5) A player who has been replaced shall not take any further part in the game.

(6) A substitute shall be deemed to be a player and shall be subject to the authority and jurisdiction of the Referee whether called upon to play or not. For any offence committed on the field of play a substitute shall be subject to the same punishment as any other player whether called upon or not.

LAW IV – PLAYERS' EQUIPMENT

(1) A player shall not wear anything which is dangerous to another player.

(2) Footwear (boots or shoes) must conform to the following standard:

(a) Bars shall be made of leather or rubber and shall be transverse and flat, not less than half an inch in width and shall extend the total width of the sole and be rounded at the corners.

(b) Studs which are independently mounted on the sole and are replaceable shall be made of leather, rubber, aluminium, plastic or similar material and shall be solid. With the exception of that part of the stud forming the base, which shall not protrude from the sole more than one quarter of an inch, studs shall be round in plan and not less than half an inch in diameter. Where studs are tapered, the minimum diameter of any section of the stud must not be less than half an inch. Where metal seating for the screw type is used, this seating must be embedded in the sole of the footwear and any attachment screw shall be part of the stud. Other than the metal seating for the screw type of stud, no metal plates even though covered with leather or rubber shall be worn, neither studs which are threaded to allow them to be screwed on to a base screw that is fixed by nails or otherwise to the soles of footwear, nor studs which, apart from the base, have any form of protruding edge rim or relief marking or ornament should be allowed.

(c) Studs which are moulded as an integral part of the sole and are not replaceable shall be made of rubber, plastic, polyurethane or similar soft materials. Provided that there are no fewer than ten studs on the sole, they shall have a minimum diameter of three-eighths of an inch (10mm). Additional supporting material to stabilise studs of soft materials, and ridges which shall not protrude more than 5mm from the sole and moulded to strengthen it, shall be permitted provided that they are in no way dangerous to other players. In all other respects they shall conform to the general requirements of this Law.

(d) Combined bars and studs may be worn, provided the whole conforms to the general requirements of this Law. Neither bars nor studs on the soles shall project more than three-quarters of an inch. If nails are used they shall be driven in flush with the surface.

(3) The goalkeeper shall wear colours which distinguish him from the other players and from the Referee.

Punishment: For any infringement of this Law, the player at fault shall be sent off the field of play to adjust his equipment and he shall not return without first reporting to the Referee, who shall satisfy himself that the player's equipment is in order; the player shall only re-enter the game at a moment when the ball has ceased to be in play.

Decisions of the International Board

(1) The usual equipment of a player is a jersey or shirt, shorts, stockings and footwear. In a match played under the rules of a competition, players need not wear boots or shoes, but shall wear jersey or shirt, shorts, or track suit or similar trousers, and stockings.

(2) The Law does not insist that boots or shoes must be worn. However, in competition matches Referees should not allow one or a few players to play without footwear when all the other players are so equipped.

(3) In International Matches, International Competitions, International Club Competitions and friendly matches between clubs of different National Associations, the Referee, prior to the start of the game, shall inspect the players' footwear, and prevent any player whose footwear does not conform to the requirements of this Law from playing until such time as it does comply.

The rules of any competition may include a similar provision.

(4) If the Referee finds that a player is wearing articles not permitted by the Laws and which may constitute a danger to other players, he shall order him to take them off. If he fails to carry out the Referee's instruction, the player shall not take part in the match.

(5) A player who has been prevented from taking part in the game or a player who has been sent off the field for infringing Law IV must report to the Referee during a stoppage of the game and may not enter or re-enter the field of play unless and until the Referee has satisfied himself that the player is no longer infringing Law IV.

(6) A player who has been prevented from taking part in a game or who has been sent off because of an infringement of Law IV, and who enters or re-enters the field of play to join or rejoin his team, in breach of the conditions of Law XII, shall be cautioned. If the Referee stops the game to administer the caution, the game shall be restarted by an indirect free-kick, taken by a player of the opposing side, from the place where the ball was when the Referee stopped the game. If the free-kick is awarded to a side within its own goal-area, it may be taken from any point within that half of the goal-area in which the ball was when play was stopped.

LAW V – REFEREES

A Referee shall be appointed to officiate in each game. His authority and the exercise of the powers granted to him by the Laws of the Game commence as soon as he enters the field of play.

His power of penalising shall extend to offences committed when play has been temporarily suspended, or when the ball is out of play. His decision on points of fact connected with the play shall be final, so far as the result of the game is concerned. He shall:

(a) Enforce the Laws.

(b) Refrain from penalising in cases where he is satisfied that, by doing so, he would be giving an advantage to the offending team.

(c) Keep a record of the game, act as timekeeper and allow the full or agreed time, adding thereto all time lost through accident or other cause.

(d) Have discretionary power to stop the game for any infringement of the Laws and to suspend or terminate the game whenever, by reason of the elements, interference by spectators, or other cause, he deems such stoppage necessary. In such a case he shall submit a detailed report to the competent authority, within the stipulated time, and in accordance with the provisions set up by the National Association under whose jurisdiction the match was played. Reports will be deemed to be made when received in the ordinary course of post.

(e) From the time he enters the field of play, caution any player guilty of misconduct or ungentlemanly behaviour and, if he persists, suspend him from further participation in the game. In such cases the Referee shall send the name of the offender to the competent authority, within the stipulated time, and in accordance with the provisions set up by the National Association under whose jurisdiction the match was played. Reports will be deemed to be made when received in the ordinary course of post.

(f) Allow no person other than the players and linesmen to enter the field of play without his permission.

(g) Stop the game if, in his opinion, a player has been seriously injured; have the player removed as soon as possible from the field of play, and immediately resume the game. If a player is slightly injured, the game shall not be stopped until the ball has ceased to be in play. A player who is able to go to the touch or goal-line for attention of any kind, shall not be treated on the field of play.

(h) Send off the field of play, any player who, in his opinion, is guilty of violent conduct, serious foul play, or the use of foul or abusive language.

(i) Signal for recommencement of the game after all stoppages.

(j) Decide that the ball provided for a match meets with the requirements of Law II.

Decisions of the International Board

(1) Referees in International Matches shall wear a blazer or blouse the colour of which is distinct from the colours worn by the contesting teams.

(2) Referees for International Matches will be selected from a neutral country unless the countries concerned agree to appoint their own officials.

(3) The Referee must be chosen from the official list of International Referees. This need not apply to Amateur and Youth International Matches.

(4) The Referee shall report to the appropriate authority misconduct or any misdemeanour on the part of spectators, officials, players, named substitutes or other persons which take place either on the field of play or in its vicinity at any time prior to, during, or after the match in question so that appropriate action can be taken by the authority concerned.

(5) Linesmen are assistants of the Referee. In no case shall the Referee consider the intervention of a Linesman if he himself has seen the incident and from his position on the field, is better able to judge. With this reserve, and the Linesman neutral, the Referee can consider the intervention and if the information of the Linesman applies to that phase of the game immediately before the scoring of a goal, the Referee may act thereon and cancel the goal.

(6) The Referee, however, can only reverse his first decision so long as the game has not been restarted.

(7) If the Referee has decided to apply the advantage clause and to let the game proceed, he cannot revoke his decision if the presumed advantage has not been realised, even though he has not, by any gesture, indicated his decision. This does not exempt the offending player from being dealt with by the Referee.

(8) The Laws of the Game are intended to provide that games should be played with as little interference as possible, and in this view it is the duty of Referees to penalise only deliberate breaches of the Law. Constant whistling for trifling and doubtful breaches produces bad feeling and loss of temper on the part of the players and spoils the pleasure of spectators.

(9) By para. (d) of Law V the Referee is empowered to terminate a match in the event of grave disorder, but he has no power or right to decide, in such event, that either team is disqualified and thereby the loser of the match. He must send a detailed report to the proper authority who alone has power to deal further with this matter.

(10) If a player commits two infringements of a different nature at the same time, the Referee shall punish the more serious offence.

(11) It is the duty of the Referee to act upon the information of neutral Linesmen with regard to incidents that do not come under the personal notice of the Referee.

(12) The Referee shall not allow any person to enter the field until play has stopped, and only then, if he has given him a signal to do so, nor shall he allow coaching from the boundary lines.

LAW VI – LINESMEN

Two Linesmen shall be appointed, whose duty (subject to the decision of the Referee) shall be to indicate when the ball is out of play and which side is entitled to the corner-kick, goal-kick or throw-in. They shall also assist the Referee to control the game in accordance with the Laws. In the event of undue interference or improper conduct by a Linesman, the Referee shall dispense with his services and arrange for a substitute to be appointed. (The matter shall be reported by the Referee to the competent authority.) The Linesmen should be equipped with flags by the Club on whose ground the match is played.

Decisions of the International Board

(1) Linesmen, where neutral, shall draw the Referee's attention to any breach of the Laws of the Game of which they become aware if they consider that the Referee may not have seen it, but the Referee shall always be the judge of the decision to be taken.

(2) National Associations are advised to appoint official Referees of neutral nationality to act as Linesmen in International Matches.

(3) In International Matches, Linesmen's flags shall be of a vivid colour, bright reds and yellows. Such flags are recommended for use in all other matches.

(4) A Linesman may be subject to disciplinary action only upon a report of the Referee for unjustified interference or insufficient assistance.

LAW VII – DURATION OF THE GAME

The duration of the game shall be two equal periods of 45 minutes, unless otherwise mutually agreed upon, subject to the following: (a) Allowance shall be made in either period for all time lost through accident or other cause, the amount of which shall be a matter for the discretion of the Referee; (b) Time shall be extended to permit a penalty-kick being taken at or after the expiration of the normal period in either half.

At half-time the interval shall not exceed five minutes except by consent of the Referee.

Decisions of the International Board

(1) If a match has been stopped by the Referee, before the completion of the time specified in the rules, for any reason stated in Law V it must be replayed in full unless the rules of the competition concerned provide for the result of the match at the time of such stoppage to stand.

(2) Players have a right to an interval at half-time.

LAW VIII – THE START OF PLAY

(a) At the beginning of the game, choice of ends and the kick-off shall be decided by the toss of a coin. The team winning the toss shall have the option of choice of ends or the kick-off. The Referee having given a signal, the game shall be started by a player taking a place-kick (i.e., a kick at the ball while it is stationary on the ground in the centre of the field of play) into his opponents' half of the field of play. Every player shall be in his own half of the field and every player of the team opposing that of the kicker shall remain not less than 10 yards from the ball until it is kicked-off; it shall not be deemed in play until it has travelled the distance of its own circumference. The kicker shall not play the ball a second time until it has been touched or played by another player.

(b) After a goal is scored, the game shall be restarted in like manner by a player of the team losing the goal.

(c) After half-time: when restarting after half-time, ends shall be changed and the kick-off shall be taken by a player of the opposite team to that of the player who started the game.

Punishment: For any infringement of this Law, the kick-off shall be retaken, except in the case of the kicker playing the ball again before it has been touched or played by another player; for this offence, an indirect free-kick shall be taken by a player of the opposing team from the place where the infringement occurred, unless the offence is committed by a player in his opponent's goal-area, in which case the free-kick shall be taken from a point anywhere within that half of the goal-area in which the offence occurred. A goal shall not be scored direct from a kick-off.

(d) After any other temporary suspension: when restarting the game after a temporary suspension of play from any cause not mentioned elsewhere in these Laws, provided that immediately prior to the suspension the ball has not passed over the touch or goal-lines, the Referee shall drop the ball at the place where it was when play was suspended and it shall be deemed in play when it has touched the ground; if, however, it goes over the touch or goal-lines after it has been dropped by the Referee, but before it is touched by a player, the Referee shall again drop it. A player shall not play the ball until it has touched the ground. If this section of the Law is not complied with the Referee shall again drop the ball.

Decisions of the International Board

(1) If, when the Referee drops the ball, a player infringes any of the Laws before the ball has touched the ground, the player concerned shall be cautioned or sent off the field according to the seriousness of the offence, but a free-kick cannot be awarded to the opposing team because the ball was not in play at the time of the offence. The ball shall therefore be again dropped by the Referee.

(2) Kicking-off by persons other than the players competing in a match is prohibited.

LAW IX – BALL IN AND OUT OF PLAY

The ball is out of play:

(a) When it has wholly crossed the goal-line or touch-line, whether on the ground or in the air.

(b) When the game has been stopped by the Referee.

The ball is in play at all other times from the start of the match to the finish including:

(a) If it rebounds from a goal-post, cross-bar or corner-flag post into the field of play.

(b) If it rebounds off either the Referee or Linesmen when they are in the field of play.

(c) In the event of a supposed infringement of the Laws, until a decision is given.

Decisions of the International Board

(1) The lines belong to the areas of which they are the boundaries. In consequence, the touch-lines and the goal-lines belong to the field of play.

LAW X – METHOD OF SCORING

Except as otherwise provided by these Laws, a goal is scored when the whole of the ball has passed over the goal-line, between the goal-posts and under the cross-bar, provided it has not been thrown, carried or intentionally propelled by hand or arm, by a player of the attacking side, except in the case of a goalkeeper, who is within his own penalty-area.

The team scoring the greater number of goals during a game shall be the winner; if no goals, or an equal number of goals are scored, the game shall be termed a 'draw'.

Decisions of the International Board

(1) Law X defines the only method according to which a match is won or drawn; no variation whatsoever can be authorised.

(2) A goal cannot in any case be allowed if the ball has been prevented by some outside agent from passing over the goal-line. If this happens in the normal course of play, other than at the taking of a penalty-kick: the game must be stopped and restarted by the Referee dropping the ball at the place where the ball came into contact with the interference.

(3) If, when the ball is going into goal, a spectator enters the field before it passes wholly over the goal-line, and tries to prevent a score, a goal shall be allowed if the ball goes into goal unless the spectator has made contact with the ball or has interfered with play, in which case the Referee shall stop the game and restart it by dropping the ball at the place where the contact or interference occurred.

LAW XI – OFF-SIDE

(1) A player is in an off-side position if he is nearer to his opponents' goal-line than the ball, unless:

(a) He is in his own half of the field of play, or

(b) There are at least two of his opponents nearer their own goal-line than he is.

(2) A player shall only be declared off-side and penalised for being in an off-side position, if, at the moment the ball touches, or is played by, one of his team, he is, in the opinion of the referee

(a) interfering with play or with an opponent, or

(b) seeking to gain an advantage by being in that position.

(3) A player shall not be declared off-side by the referee

(a) merely because of his being in an off-side position, or

(b) if he receives the ball, direct, from a goal-kick, a corner-kick, a throw-in, or when it has been dropped by the referee.

(4) If a player is declared off-side, the referee shall award an indirect free-kick, which shall be taken by a player of the opposing team from the place where the infringement occurred, unless the offence is committed by a player in his opponents' goal-area, in which case, the free-kick shall be taken from a point anywhere within that half of the goal-area in which the offence occurred.

Decisions of the International Board

(1) Off-side shall not be judged at the moment the player in question receives the ball, but at the moment when the ball is passed to him by one of his own side. A player who is not in an off-side position when one of his colleagues passes the ball to him or takes a free-kick, does not therefore become off-side if he goes forward during the flight of the ball.

LAW XII – FOULS AND MISCONDUCT

A player who intentionally commits any of the following nine offences:

(a) Kicks or attempts to kick an opponent;

(b) Trips an opponent, i.e., throwing or attempting to throw him by the use of the legs or by stooping in front of or behind him;

(c) Jumps at an opponent;

(d) Charges an opponent in a violent or dangerous manner;

(e) Charges an opponent from behind unless the latter be obstructing;

(f) Strikes or attempts to strike an opponent;

(g) Holds an opponent;

(h) Pushes an opponent;

(i) Handles the ball, i.e., carries, strikes or propels the ball with his hand or arm. (This does not apply to the goalkeeper within his own penalty-area); shall be penalised by the award of a direct free-kick to be taken by the opposing side from the place where the offence occurred, unless the offence is committed by a player in his opponents' goal-area in which case, the free-kick shall be taken from a point anywhere within that half of the goal-area in which the offence occurred.

Should a player of the defending side intentionally commit one of the above nine offences within the penalty-area he shall be penalised by a penalty-kick.

A penalty-kick can be awarded irrespective of the position of the ball, if in play, at the time an offence within the penalty-area is committed.

A player committing any of the five following offences:

(1) Playing in a manner considered by the Referee to be dangerous, e.g., attempting to kick the ball while held by the goalkeeper;

(2) Charging fairly, i.e., with the shoulder, when the ball is not within playing distance of the players concerned and they are definitely not trying to play it;

(3) When not playing the ball, intentionally obstructing an opponent, i.e. running between the opponent and the ball, or interposing the body so as to form an obstacle to an opponent;

(4) Charging the goalkeeper except when he

(a) is holding the ball;

(b) is obstructing an opponent;

(c) has passed outside his goal-area;

(5) When playing as goalkeeper,

(a) takes more than 4 steps whilst holding, bouncing or throwing the ball in the air and catching it again without releasing it so that it is played by another player, or

(b) indulges in tactics which, in the opinion of the Referee, are designed merely to hold up the game and thus waste time and so give an unfair advantage to his own team – shall be penalised by the award of an indirect free-kick to be taken by the opposing side from the place where the infringement occurred, unless the offence is committed by a player in his opponents' goal-area, in which case the free-kick shall be taken from a point anywhere within that half of the goal-area in which the offence occurred.

A player shall be cautioned if:

(j) he enters or re-enters the field of play to join or rejoin his team after the game has commenced, or leaves the field of play during the progress of the game (except through accident) without, in either case, first having received a signal from the Referee showing him that he may do so. If the Referee stops the game to administer the caution the game shall be restarted by an indirect free-kick taken by a player of the opposing team from the place where the ball was when the Referee stopped the game. If the free-kick is awarded to a side within its own goal-area it may be taken from any point within the half of the goal-area in which the ball was when play was stopped. If, however, the offending player has committed a more serious offence he shall be penalised according to that section of the law he infringed;

(k) he persistently infringes the Laws of the Game;

(l) he shows by word or action, dissent from any decision given by the Referee;

(m) he is guilty of ungentlemanly conduct.

For any of these last three offences, in addition to the caution, an indirect free-kick shall also be awarded to the opposing side from the place where the offence occurred unless a more serious infringement of the Laws of the Game was committed. If the offence is committed by a player in his opponents' goal-area, a free-kick shall be taken from a point anywhere within that half of the goal-area in which the offence occurred.

A player shall be sent off the field of play, if:

(n) in the opinion of the Referee he is guilty of violent conduct or serious foul play;

(o) he uses foul or abusive language;

(p) he persists in misconduct after having received a caution.

If play be stopped by reason of a player being ordered from the field for an offence without a separate breach of the Law having been committed, the game shall be resumed by an indirect free-kick awarded to the opposing side from the place where the infringement occurred, unless the offence is committed by a player in his opponents' goal-area, in which case, the free-kick shall be taken from a point anywhere within that half of the goal-area in which the offence occurred.

Decisions of the International Board

(1) If the goalkeeper either intentionally strikes an opponent by throwing the ball vigorously at him or pushes him with the ball while holding it, the Referee shall award a penalty-kick, if the offence took place within the penalty-area.

(2) If a player deliberately turns his back to an opponent when he is about to be tackled, he may be charged but not in a dangerous manner.

(3) In case of body-contact in the goal-area between an attacking player and the opposing goalkeeper not in possession of the ball, the Referee, as sole judge of intention, shall stop the game if, in his opinion, the action of the attacking player was intentional, and award an indirect free-kick.

(4) If a player leans on the shoulders of another player of his own team in order to head the ball, the Referee shall stop the game, caution the player for ungentlemanly conduct and award an indirect free-kick to the opposing side.

(5) A player's obligation when joining or rejoining his team after the start of the match to 'report to the Referee' must be interpreted as meaning 'to draw the attention of the Referee from the touch-line'. The signal from the Referee shall be made by a definite gesture which makes the player understand that he may come into the field of play; it is not necessary for the Referee to wait until the game is stopped (this does not apply in respect of an infringement of Law IV), but the Referee is the sole judge of the moment in which he gives his signal of acknowledgement.

(6) The letter and spirit of Law XII do not oblige the Referee to stop a game to administer a caution. He may, if he chooses, apply the advantage. If he does apply the advantage, he shall caution the player when play stops.

(7) If a player covers up the ball without touching it in an endeavour not to have it played by an opponent, he obstructs but does not infringe Law XII para. 3 because he is already in possession of the ball and covers it for tactical reasons whilst the ball remains within playing distance. In fact, he is actually playing the ball and does not commit an infringement; in this case, the player may be charged because he is in fact playing the ball.

(8) If a player intentionally stretches his arms to obstruct an opponent and steps from one side to the other, moving his arms up and down to delay his opponent, forcing him to change course, but does not make 'bodily contact' the Referee shall caution the player for ungentlemanly conduct and award an indirect free-kick.

(9) If a player intentionally obstructs the opposing goalkeeper, in an attempt to prevent him from putting the ball into play in accordance with Law XII, 5(a), the Referee shall award an indirect free-kick.

(10) If after a Referee has awarded a free-kick a player protests violently by using abusive or foul language and is sent off the field, the free-kick should not be taken until the player has left the field.

(11) Any player, whether he is within or outside the field of play, whose conduct is ungentlemanly or violent, whether or not it is directed towards an opponent, a colleague, the Referee, a Linesman or other person, or who uses foul or abusive language, is guilty of an offence, and shall be dealt with according to the nature of the offence committed.

(12) If, in the opinion of the Referee a goalkeeper intentionally lies on the ball longer than is necessary, he shall be penalised for ungentlemanly conduct and

(a) be cautioned and an indirect free-kick awarded to the opposing team;

(b) in case of repetition of the offence, be sent off the field.

(13) The offence of spitting at opponents, officials or other persons, or similar unseemly behaviour shall be considered as violent conduct within the meaning of section (n) of Law XII.

(14) If, when a Referee is about to caution a player, and before he has done so, the player commits another offence which merits a caution, the player shall be sent off the field of play.

LAW XIII – FREE-KICK

Free-kicks shall be classified under two headings: 'Direct' (from which a goal can be scored direct against the offending side), and 'Indirect' (from which a goal cannot be scored unless the ball has been played or touched by a player other than the kicker before passing through the goal).

When a player is taking a direct or an indirect free-kick inside his own penalty-area, all of the opposing players shall remain outside the area, and shall be at least ten yards from the ball whilst the kick is being taken. The ball shall be in play immediately it has travelled the distance of its own circumference and is beyond the penalty-area. The goalkeeper shall not receive the ball into his hands, in order that he may thereafter kick it into play. If the ball is not kicked direct into play, beyond the penalty-area, the kick shall be retaken.

When a player is taking a direct or an indirect free-kick outside his own penalty-area, all of the opposing players shall be at least ten yards from the ball, until it is in play, unless they are standing on their own goal-line, between the goal-posts. The ball shall be in play when it has travelled the distance of its own circumference.

If a player of the opposing side encroaches into the penalty-area, or within ten yards of the ball, as the case may be, before a free-kick is taken, the Referee shall delay the taking of the kick, until the Law is complied with.

The ball must be stationary when a free-kick is taken, and the kicker shall not play the ball a second time, until it has been touched or played by another player.

Notwithstanding any other reference in these Laws to the point from which a free-kick is to be taken, any free-kick awarded to the defending side, within its own goal-area, shall be taken from any point within that half of the goal-area in which the free-kick has been awarded.

Punishment. If the kicker, after taking the free-kick, plays the ball a second time before it has been touched or played by another player an indirect free-kick shall be taken by a player of the opposing team from the spot where the infringement occurred.

Decisions of the International Board

(1) In order to distinguish between a direct and an indirect free-kick, the Referee, when he awards an indirect free-kick, shall indicate accordingly by raising an arm above his head. He shall keep his arm in that position until the kick has been taken and retain the signal until the ball has been played or touched by another player or goes out of play.

(2) Players who do not retire to the proper distance when a free-kick is taken must be cautioned and on any repetition be ordered off. It is particularly requested of Referees that attempts to delay the taking of a free-kick by encroaching should be treated as serious misconduct.

(3) If, when a free-kick is being taken, any of the players dance about or gesticulate in a way calculated to distract their opponents, it shall be deemed ungentlemanly conduct for which the offender(s) shall be cautioned.

LAW XIV – PENALTY-KICK

A penalty-kick shall be taken from the penalty-mark and, when it is being taken, all players with the exception of the player taking the kick, and the opposing goal-keeper, shall be within the field of play but outside the penalty-area, and at least 10 yards from the penalty-mark. The opposing goalkeeper must stand (without moving his feet) on his own goal-line, between the goal-posts, until the ball is kicked. The player taking the kick must kick the ball forward; he shall not play the ball a second time until it has been touched or played by another player. The ball shall be deemed in play directly it is kicked, i.e., when it has travelled the distance of its circumference, and a goal may be scored direct from such a penalty-kick. If the ball touches the goalkeeper before passing between the posts, when a penalty-kick is being taken at or after the expiration of half-time or full-time, it does not nullify a goal. If necessary, time of play shall be extended at half-time or full-time to allow a penalty-kick to be taken.

Punishment

For any infringement of this Law:

(a) by the defending team, the kick shall be retaken if a goal has not resulted.

(b) by the attacking team other than by the player taking the kick, if a goal is scored it shall be disallowed and the kick retaken.

(c) by the player taking the penalty-kick, committed after the ball is in play, a player of the opposing team shall take an indirect free-kick from the spot where the infringement occurred. If, in the case of paragraph (c), the offence is committed by the player in his opponents' goal-area, the free-kick shall be taken from a point anywhere within that half of the goal-area in which the offence occurred.

Decisions of the International Board

(1) When the Referee has awarded a penalty-kick, he shall not signal for it to be taken, until the players have taken up position in accordance with the Law.

(2) (a) If, after the kick has been taken, the ball is stopped in its course towards goal, by an outside agent, the kick shall be retaken.

(b) If, after the kick has been taken, the ball rebounds into play, from the goalkeeper, the cross-bar or a goal-post, and is then stopped in its course by an outside agent, the Referee shall stop play and restart it by dropping the ball at the place where it came into contact with the outside agent.

(3) (a) If, after having given the signal for a penalty-kick to be taken, the Referee sees that the goalkeeper is not in his right place on the goal-line, he shall, nevertheless, allow the kick to proceed. It shall be retaken, if a goal is not scored.

(b) If, after the Referee has given the signal for a penalty-kick to be taken, and before the ball has been kicked, the goal-keeper moves his feet, the Referee shall, nevertheless, allow the kick to proceed. It shall be retaken, if a goal is not scored.

(c) If, after the Referee has given the signal for a penalty-kick to be taken, and before the ball is in play, a player of the defending team encroaches into the penalty-area, or within ten yards of the penalty-mark, the Referee shall, nevertheless, allow the kick to proceed. It shall be retaken, if a goal is not scored.

The player concerned shall be cautioned.

(4) (a) If, when a penalty-kick is being taken, the player taking the kick is guilty of ungentlemanly conduct, the kick, if already taken, shall be retaken, if a goal is scored.

The player concerned shall be cautioned.

(b) If, after the Referee has given the signal for a penalty-kick to be taken, and before the ball is in play, a colleague of the player taking the kick encroaches into the penalty-area or within ten yards of the penalty-mark, the Referee shall, nevertheless, allow the kick to proceed. If a goal is scored, it shall be disallowed, and the kick retaken.

The player concerned shall be cautioned.

(c) If, in the circumstances described in the foregoing paragraph, the ball rebounds into play from the goalkeeper, the crossbar or a goal-post, the Referee shall stop the game, caution the player and award an indirect free-kick to the opposing team from the place where the infringement occurred.

(5) (a) If, after the referee has given the signal for a penalty-kick to be taken, and before the ball is in play, the goalkeeper moves from his position on the goal-line, or moves his feet, and a colleague of the kicker encroaches into the penalty-area or within 10 yards of the penalty-mark, the kick, if taken, shall be retaken.

The colleague of the kicker shall be cautioned.

(b) If, after the Referee has given the signal for a penalty-kick to be taken, and before the ball is in play, a player of each team encroaches into the penalty-area, or within 10 yards of the penalty-mark, the kick, if taken, shall be retaken.

The players concerned shall be cautioned.

(6) When a match is extended, at half-time or full-time, to allow a penalty-kick to be taken or retaken, the extension shall last until the moment that the penalty-kick has been completed, i.e. until the Referee has decided whether or not a goal is scored.

A goal is scored when the ball passes wholly over the goal-line.

(a) direct from the penalty-kick,

(b) having rebounded from either goal-post or the cross-bar, or

(c) having touched or been played by the goal-keeper.

The game shall terminate immediately the Referee has made his decision.

(7) When a penalty-kick is being taken in extended time:

(a) the provisions of all of the foregoing paragraphs, except paragraphs (2)(b) and (4)(c) shall apply in the usual way, and

(b) in the circumstances described in paragraphs (2)(b) and (4)(c) the game shall terminate immediately the ball rebounds from the goalkeeper, the cross-bar or the goal-post.

LAW XV – THROW-IN

When the whole of the ball passes over a touch-line, either on the ground or in the air, it shall be thrown in from the point where it crossed the line, in any direction, by a player of the team opposite to that of the player who last touched it. The thrower at the moment of delivering the ball must face the field of play and part of each foot shall be either on the touch-line or on the ground outside the touch-line. The thrower shall use both hands and shall deliver the ball from behind and over his head. The ball shall be in play immediately it enters the field of play, but the thrower shall not again play the ball until it has been touched or played by another player. A goal shall not be scored direct from a throw-in.

Punishment:

(a) If the ball is improperly thrown in the throw-in shall be taken by a player of the opposing team.

(b) If the thrower plays the ball a second time before it has been touched or played by another player, an indirect free-kick shall be taken by a player of the opposing team from the place where the infringement occurred, unless the offence is committed by a player in his opponents' goal-area, in which case, the free-kick shall be taken from a point anywhere within that half of the goal-area in which the offence occurred.

Decisions of the International Board

(1) If a player taking a throw-in, plays the ball a second time by handling it within the field of play before it has been touched or played by another player, the Referee shall award a direct free-kick.

(2) A player taking a throw-in must face the field of play with some part of his body.

(3) If, when a throw-in is being taken, any of the opposing players dance about or gesticulate in a way calculated to distract or impede the thrower, it shall be deemed ungentlemanly conduct, for which the offender(s) shall be cautioned.

LAW XVI – GOAL-KICK

When the whole of the ball passes over the goal-line excluding that portion between the goal-posts, either in the air or on the ground, having last been played by one of the attacking team, it shall be kicked direct into play beyond the penalty-area from a point within that half of the goal-area nearest to where it crossed the line, by a player of the defending team. A goalkeeper shall not receive the ball into his hands from a goal-kick in order that he may thereafter kick it into play. If the ball is not kicked beyond the penalty-area, i.e., direct into play, the kick shall be retaken. The kicker shall not play the ball a second time until it has touched – or been played by – another player. A goal shall not be scored direct from such a kick. Players of the team opposing that of the player taking the goal-kick shall remain outside the penalty-area whilst the kick is being taken.

Punishment:

If a player taking a goal-kick plays the ball a second time after it has passed beyond the penalty-area, but before it has touched or been played by another player, an indirect free-kick shall be awarded to the opposing team, to be taken from the place where the infringement occurred, unless the offence is committed by a player in his opponents' goal-area, in which case, the free-kick shall be taken from a point anywhere within that half of the goal-area in which the offence occurred.

Decisions of the International Board

(1) When a goal-kick has been taken and the player who has kicked the ball touches it again before it has left the penalty-area, the kick has not been taken in accordance with the Law and must be retaken.

LAW XVII – CORNER-KICK

When the whole of the ball passes over the goal-line, excluding that portion between the goal-posts, either in the air or on the ground, having last been played by one of the defending team, a member of the attacking team shall take a corner-kick, i.e., the whole of the ball shall be placed within the quarter circle at the nearest corner-flag post, which must not be moved, and it shall be kicked from that position. A goal may be scored direct from such a kick. Players of the team opposing that of the player taking the corner-kick shall not approach within 10 yards of the ball until it is in play, i.e., it has travelled the distance of its own circumference, nor shall the kicker play the ball a second time until it has been touched or played by another player.

Punishment:

(a) If the player who takes the kick plays the ball a second time before it has been touched or played by another player, the Referee shall award an indirect free-kick to the opposing team, to be taken from the place where the infringement occurred, unless the offence is committed by a player in his opponents' goal-area, in which case the free-kick shall be taken from a point anywhere within that half of the goal-area in which the offence occurred.

(b) For any other infringement the kick shall be retaken.

COACHING AND THE COACHES

Coaching in England is organised by the English Football Association through their Coaching Department. All the official coaching awards emanate from there, and such available awards in descending order are: the Full Coaching Award, the Preliminary Coaching Badge, the Local Team Manager's Award, the Youth Team Manager's Certificate, and the School Team Manager's Certificate. In addition, the FA have devised with sponsorship from the Coca-Cola Company an award for schoolchildren of both sexes known as the Super Skills Awards.

On the administrative side there are additionally 43 County Coaching Associations plus the three Armed Services, all with County Secretaries who deal with the day-to-day running of coaching at the lower levels and various delegated aspects of the system.

The FA Coaching Headquarters are at the FA's offices at 16 Lancaster Gate, London W2 3LW, where the Director of Coaching, Mr Allen Wade, and his Assistant-Director of Coaching, Mr Charles Hughes, are situated.

Around the country there are various Regional Coaches supported by Coaching Organisers, and each Regional Coach or Organiser has under his control a number of Coaching Associations formed for the purpose of bringing coaches together to discuss fresh coaching ideas and to take part in refresher courses.

The Regional Coaches and Coaching Organisers are:

Regional Coaches

North-East Region: Mr Jack Detchon, 2nd Floor, 22 High Street, Sheffield S1 2GD.
North-West Region: Mr Richard Bate, 31a Wellington Street (St John's), Blackburn, Lancs BB1 8AU.
Midlands-West Region: Mr Kevin Verity, 25 Gresham Chambers, 14 Lichfield Street, Wolverhampton WV1 1DG, Staffs.
Midlands-East Region: Mr Keith Wright, 29b High Street, Oakham, Rutland.
London Region (North): Mr Colin Murphy, c/o The FA Regional Offices, 16 Lancaster Gate, London W2 3LW.
London Region (South): Mr Robin Russell, c/o The FA Regional Offices, 16 Lancaster Gate, London W2 3LW.

COACHING ORGANISERS

East Anglia Region: Mr Graham Morgan, Roundwell Cottage, 1 Grove Road, Hethersett, Norwich, Norfolk.
South-West Region: Mr Peter Amos, 20 Tuckers Meadow, Crediton, Devon.
Mid-West Region: Mr David Burnside, 3 Oakdale Avenue, Downend, Bristol, Glos.

The aforementioned are supplemented by the Staff Coaches who are awarded that status for their efforts and hard work in relation to coaching. The Staff Coaches are:
Adams, J. W.; Adamson, J.; Ainsley, G. E.; Allen, D.; Armfield, J.; Bate, R.; Beaglehole, E. W.; Blenkinsop, E. B.; Blunt, K. R. W.; Bond, C. E.; Bramley, J.; Brown, A.; Brown, A. ROTHMANS FOOTBALL YEARBOOK

Now in its twelfth year as a unique record of the world's most popular game, with detailed results of the English and Scottish Leagues and Cups in the season 1980-81, plus the World Cup and European competitions, past and present. Extensive coverage of non-League, Youth and Schools competitions, as well as League and Cup results in UEFA countries, contributes to Rothmans Football Yearbook's reputation as the most complete reference book for football followers in Britain.

Career appearances and goalscoring records of current Football League players; team line-ups of all FA Cup and League Cup finalists; results of all International matches played by England, Scotland, Northern Ireland, Wales and the Republic of Ireland; International appearances and line-ups for the four British countries, plus results and appearances for 'B' and Under-21 Internationals.

Diary of 1980-81, Milestones, Sport and the Law, and the Editorial reflect the state of football in Britain at a time of economic uncertainty for both clubs and players. The Rothmans Football Awards honour those who have made a significant contribution to the game, while the other awards for players and managers in 1980-81 are recorded.

The Laws of the Game, with International Board decisions, and the Football League fixtures for 1981-82.
